SAYS OPPOSITION 'OVERWHELMING' IN WEST MONROE

V. F. W. Starts Opinion Poll On Appointments

A high official of the Hudson-Leedy Veterans of Foreign Wars post in West Monroe said yesterday he made a grass roots check and found that an "overwhelming majority" of the people in West Monroe resent Gov. Kennon's practice of making appointments to fill vacancies in the city government.

A. M. Hobbs, senior vice commander of the veterans' organization, said he stopped at several residences "in all sections of town" and asked for opinions. "And the places I stopped were not selected—I knocked on doors and didn't know the people who answered," Hobbs said.

He said the house-to-house check was made before leaders in the V. F. W. post decided to sponsor a

HOUSE INQUIRY REPORT CHARGES IRREGULARITIES

Say Malfeasance Turned By V. A.'s Own Inspection

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—A Congressional committee today charged widespread irregularities, including bribery and favoritism in administration of the huge veterans housing program.

The charge was made in a report by a House select committee which investigated educational training and loan guaranty programs under the GI Bill. The group is headed by Rep. Teague (D-Tex.).

The committee said irregularities turned up by the Veterans Administration's own inspection and investigation service included:

"Acceptance of gifts and gratuities on a widespread basis.

"Acceptance of bribes and participation in conspiracies by some loan guaranty officials.

"Purchase of homes by some loan guaranty officials under questionable circumstances.

"Favoritism to certain fee appraisers and fee compliance inspectors in some offices.

"Favoritism to certain builders by expediting handling of their cases, granting unjustified price increases, and authorizing deviations and substitutions favoring the builder.

"Interests in outside activity such as real estate sales, construction and lending companies, when such activities tended to conflict with the interest of the government."

The report said one appraiser at Detroit acknowledged that his Christmas presents from persons doing business with the loan guaranty division included five bottles of whisky, a basket of fruit, a chafing dish filled with fruits and nuts, a punch bowl filled with Christmas goodies, four turkeys, two hams, a carving set, a bottle of wine, a fruit cake, some linens, and gift certificates totaling $95.

The committee recommended that the loan guaranty officer of the regional VA office in Washington, D. C. be removed and the loan guaranty division be reorganized immediately.

The official was identified as Morgan B. Callahan by Oliver E. Meadows, the committee's staff director. Callahan could not be reached for comment today.

The report said that "inefficiency, deliberate favoritism, and misconception of the basic functions of the loan guaranty division" had cost veterans millions of dollars in this area.

Silverstein To Head Community Chest Drive

David C. Silverstein, prominent Monroe business leader, Thursday formally accepted the post of general chairman of the 1952-53 Twin City Community Chest campaign, which opens September 1, according to an announcement yesterday by H. Flood Madison, Jr., president of the chest.

Immediately following his acceptance of the chairmanship, Silverstein appointed C. D. McAdams, manager of the Sears Roebuck store in Monroe, as his co-chairman. Simultaneous with his assumption of the important campaign leadership post, Silverstein announced plans to carry on the new type chest appeal based upon a central unit plan, as established in the 1950-51 campaign, and which has proven immensely successful.

In announcing Silverstein's acceptance of the drive chairmanship, Madison said the chest directors were very pleased that a man of his ability had been selected for the post. "In Silverstein, we have a man who holds the esteem of the business and civic community. He is very interested in the business life of the city, and will draw many important men and women into the campaign."

He is a past board member of the Community Chest, is chairman of the merchants retail division of the Chamber of Commerce, vice-president of the Louisiana Retailers Association, a member of the Rotary club, past president and director of the Jewish Temple, and was campaign chairman of the United Jewish Appeal in 1948.

"Besides these and other active civic duties, Silverstein has for over a quarter of a century conducted a very successful business in Monroe, and we know he will get our job done," Madison concluded.

Chairman to head the field divisions of the drive will be announced immediately, Silverstein said, as acceptances are received from those singled out to handle these important jobs. The amount of this year's Chest goal will also be announced during the coming week he stated.

The early work of the campaign will be staged from the Chest offices located at 412 Heninger Building and Mrs. Helen Luckett, executive secretary, will be in charge of headquarters, but later an auxiliary desk will be set up, in a convenient place for volunteer workers.

The management reported "several" complaints that some swimsuits were built to fill and pinch figures in the right places. So before the beauties paraded a woman helper "interviewed" all competitors.

Two unidentified contestants were found to have "forbidden aids" in their costumes.

Winner of the competition was 18-year-old Sydney June Walker, who needed no artificial aid whatsoever.

NEW SALVATION ARMY MAN HERE

Capt. Mockabee Starts Off Duties With Deep Enthusiasm

With an experience of 15 years or more in the Salvation Army, Capt. Louis Mockabee and his wife are here to take over the operation of the organization in Monroe as successor to Maj. Charles Stratford, who is taking a leave of absence.

Captain Mockabee, his wife and two children, are at home at 3008 Gordon avenue, where Major Stratford had previously resided.

The new officer, still in his thirties and imbued with enthusiasm for his work, has served the Salvation Army ever since he completed the Army's training school in Atlanta in 1937, and he is a third generation member of his family engaged in Salvation Army activities.

Born in Guthrie, Okla., he went with his family first to Denver where his father's health failed and where he sought relief from lung trouble. Denver failed to aid and he next removed to Miami, Fla., which also did not aid. He died in Miami.

Mockabee, of stalwart, athletic build, is abounding in constructive ideas and determined to put into

Jes' Ramblin'

Poetry ordinarily is banned from this column, but such great interest is being shown in those mysterious little aerial saucers that E. Weber Cote has commended with the Muse and there is the result:

The Taming Of The Saucer
It had hung there in the starlit sky
Like a party lantern a mite too high,
And then it had wheeled in rapid flight
And was lost in a pin point in the summer night.

"I guess it was a flying saucer," she said.
It wasn't a star — 'Cause it was a mite red!

And it wasn't a comet 'cause it had no tail,
And it wasn't an airship, 'cause it had no sail.

And never a balloon could disappear with such fizz,
And it wasn't a meteor — whatever that is."

And papa, hearing her strange monologue
Cleared from his throat an enormous frog.

"Young lady," he reported, "isn't it late for a tot?"
And I think you've been listening to some kind of rot!

Mamma, watch the radio when she's in the house,
'Cause this kid has ears like a cupboard mouse!

Let her listen to music — that's a Mild Sensation,
But these casters of news — tut! tut! — this generation!

A flying saucer, indeed! Poor papa was abashed.
'More talk like that, and your jeans will get thrashed!

Voters From Many Parishes And Towns Voice Choices In Presidential Poll

Voters from 23 towns, representing many of the parishes in the fifth congressional district, and some other parishes, Saturday had registered their choices in the News-Star — World presidential preference poll. Every day since the preferential poll was begun has brought a new stack of letters and cards containing straw votes.

In the poll, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has continued to be favored over Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois by a majority of slightly more than 10 to 1, with the percentage in favor of Eisenhower running even higher in the rural parishes than in Monroe and West Monroe.

W. E. Rape says: "I am for the best man, and the one that will not want any advice from Harry—Gen. Eisenhower."

H. H. Shaw of Winnsboro says: "Granddad Democrat, Grandma, Democrat, Dad and Mother Democrat, the pure democratic type. I am not a Truman or Roosevelt supporter because we need some honest man to straighten out the mess. I will support Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Been a Democrat 13 years. What I have to say is no secret."

Another voter says: "I can't make myself support any man that is 'tainted' with Trumanism. I think Stevenson is a good man but weak when he let Truman force him to be his man and not come out and campaign like the others did or stand pat that he would not accept. So that stands to reason he still would be under Truman, no matter what they say."

None of those favoring Stevenson sent letters in Saturday's mail. Expressions from both sides are invited.

Anyone who expects to be able to vote in the presidential election this fall is eligible to cast a preferential ballot in the News-Star—World's pre-election poll.

This poll was requested by the Associated Press, to be combined with polls from other sections of Louisiana and of the nation, for the purpose of learning in advance how the election is likely to go.

Votes may be cast by mailing in one of the printed ballots or a postal card or letter or by appearing in person. Names are required as evidence of good faith but will not be printed in connection with the count of ballots. Those wishing to comment on the coming election through the Public Forum column may do so and their letters will be used either with or without their signatures as requested, but all letters must be signed, as is true with all other Public Forum letters.

Hurricane Aims Labor Day Punch At U. S. East Coast

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Aug. 30 (AP)—Danger's focus shifted swiftly from Georgia to South Carolina late today as the season's first tropical hurricane aimed a Labor Day week-end wallop at the South Atlantic coast.

While the storm veered northward, away from this nervous resort area, it also gained in strength and picked up enough forward speed so that it may strike the mainland around midnight.

The Miami Weather Bureau's 5 p. m. (EST) advisory for the first time reported top winds at 100-110 miles an hour in the center of the disturbance, then about 90 miles south of Charleston. Forward speed was reported about 15 miles an hour, northward.

Earlier the storm—tagged Able for "A" because it is the first of the season — had been packing winds of 80-90 miles and had been moving only about 10 miles an hour in a northwesterly direction.

The weather bureau ordered hurricane warnings extended from Georgetown, S. C. to Wilmington, N. C. but allowed the danger signals to be taken down from Fernandina, Fla., to Savannah, Ga. This lifted the main threat almost entirely from Georgia but still left about 250 miles of coast in the path of the blow and under instructions to take all emergency precautions.

On its present course, the storm's center would strike into the Charleston area shortly before midnight, but the weather bureau reported a tendency to continue the clockwise movement which usually marks such storms north of the equator. If this continues, it could turn into a northeastward course, graze Charleston and Georgetown and hit inland in North Carolina southwest of Wilmington. Or, if the turn is still further accentuated, it could whirl on out to sea.

Wrecked by the storm long before it ever reached land were the Labor Day week-end plans of thousands in Florida, Georgia and the Carolinas.

In the Tybee Island-Savannah Beach area near Savannah, an estimated 5,000 vacationers and year-around residents moved inland. This evacuation was being repeated in the Brunswick area where the first sheets of rain and a dropping barometer quickly knocked out plans for a fireworks display and other holiday festivities.

Although by-passed by the blow, the Florida beach area on both sides of Jacksonville felt raised havoc with fishing and swimming plans. The South Carolina coast still had to feel the first effects of the storm but most shore dwellers were heeding the warnings.

Miss Birdie Hatton Gives Ford Foundation Scholarship

Selected as winner of one of the two Louisiana high school teacher fellowships, given by the Ford Foundation, Miss Carrie (Birdie) Hatton, Ouachita Parish High School art teacher, has been specially honored.

The Foundation, established a year ago, is for the advancement of education and sets up a program of fellowships for 400 high school teachers in the United States and its possessions.

The Ouachita parish system was selected for one of the two awards, as stated, and the selection was made after careful study by a committee composed of L. C. Strickland, chairman; James H. Trousdale, Albert Gerson, Mrs. DeWitt Henry and Mrs. Fred Cook. The selection is said to meet with complete approval generally.

The entire year's expenses will be paid out of Foundation Funds which will comprise not only expenses for the coming year of special study, but also will include the regular salary that will be paid from Ford funds so that it will not cost the school board here a single dollar.

La.'s Cotton Yield Highest In South

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 30 (AP)—Louisiana had the highest cotton yield per acre of any Southern state in 1951, B. B. Jones, agricultural manager of the Chamber of Commerce of New Orleans, said today, quoting a federal report.

The report showed 81 per cent of the acres planted in cotton were fertilized and that the average application per acre was 260 pounds compared to an average application for all states of 238 pounds.

Five years ago, 57 per cent of Louisiana's cotton acreage was fertilized at a rate of 135 pounds per acre.

"Farmers have followed recommendations in applying more fertilizer," Jones said, "and have found that every dollar spent for fertilizer returns at least four dollars in added crop value."

FIGHTER THROWS WING, 3 KILLED

Dislocated Fin Strikes Observer Near Detroit

DETROIT, Aug. 30 (AP)—The wing flew off an F89 Scorpion fighter, which crashed, carrying its pilot to death and killing a spectator at the International Aviation Exposition here today.

An observer in the plane also was killed. Neither pilot nor observer was identified.

The wing flew off as the Air Force Scorpion, an all-weather jet plane, passed over a corner of the exposition grandstand seating thousands of spectators. Other parts flew off as the plane swirled crazily.

The spectator, not immediately identified, was killed as the falling wing sheared the top off his automobile.

The jets were roaring in, only 200 feet above the ground, preparatory to a climbing demonstration as the wing flew off.

The falling wing narrowly missed several other spectators.

The main body of the jet sailed into a storehouse on the Wayne Major Airport, exploding and setting the building afire. Other wreckage blocked nearby railroad tracks.

Get notions like that out of your silly, young head!

It's time you were scampering off to bed!

On her downy, soft pillow she tossed and she turned

While her pert little ears fairly lit as they burned.

With papa's harsh lecture still ringing in her mind —

No wonder dreamland had to search for his find.

No wonder the sandman knocked vainly — in vain.

Though she squinted her eyes tight—till the effort bro't pain

"A flying saucer, indeed!" her papa was yelling.

"Why, the next thing you know, she'll be fortune telling!"

See if you can't calm her with your goodnight kiss,

And don't let the neighbors hear anything of this!"

And she could imagine papa's dark ugly frown

As he said, "You know, mamma, we'll be laughed out of town!"

Deep was a nightmare she uneasily rode,

And papa was a bad man from the bad man's abode.

Papa was there with his pitchfork and tail

Till the bright flying saucer wanted more and more pale.

All through the night they were feudin' and tossin';

Papa was a screechin', papa was a-bossin'!

Then out of the melee where her composure was born,

The wild mare was quiet — and bing! — came morn!

At breakfast papa was in mild turmoil.

In fact, papa was fit to be boiled!

"Now, tell me, baby," poor papa began.

"Now, tell papa, sweetheart, if you think you can,

What was this business you saw in the sky?"

Explain it to papa — there, there, now, don't cry!

Papa didn't see it, and he wants to know

How big it was. How fast could it go?

What color was it? Were its wings in sight?

What made you see it in the big, black night?"

"But why, papa are you so upset? Only last night you made me forget!"

Now, try to remember what you can, my sweet!

The men will be talking out on the street.

Seems you were one of a fortunate few.

Who looked to the skies for that breath-taking view.

There were twelve people, so the papers write,

Who saw the saucers in the sky last night."

A little one frowned for a moment and said,

"Were all of those twelve sent away to bed?"

A Fellowship recipient is expected to pursue a program that will broaden knowledge and experience rather than intensify training in a limited field, it is explained. The responsibility for designing the year's program resting primarily upon the candidate.

Chairman Strickland stated Saturday that he is sure this teacher can bring back to her school an enthusiasm that will enrich cultural qualities and will prove a great satisfaction to her and to all who come in contact with her, proving a valuable contribution to the education of youth of the community.

Miss Hatton plans to spend half of the year in Chicago with the spending of much time in universities and museums, and in contacting artists to discover new trends and objectives. From Chicago she will proceed to New York for a similar study and then will visit Washington and John Hopkins where she will complete her year of really creative studies. Her entire itinerary has been mapped in detail and completely approved.

In the coming school year, Miss Patsy Platt, who has been a substitute and at times assistant of Miss Hatton, will take over the work of the art department, stated Mr. Strickland.

With the consent of the board, the captain hopes to make many changes. One is to get a chapel for services on the ground floor. He thinks that many are kept from attending through the fact that a long flight of stairs must now be climbed. He seeks specially to stress street meetings and to advance Red Shield and general athletic activities to keep boys interested and completely occupied.

There is a woodwork department that is in charge of a highly skilled man who is partially physically incapacitated. He thinks this work should be stressed as to possibilities and that many boys can learn cabinet making and woodworking craft from this capable teacher.

Some of his work is regarded meritorious to a high degree. The captain desires to acquaint the public with this man's output and potentialities. He plans a window display to acquaint the public with the high grade work accomplished. The captain starts with abounding enthusiasm and hopes to make the Salvation Army a force in the community in the future far more than ever in the past.

NEGRO KILLED, ANOTHER HELD

A Monroe negro was killed by a single blast from a 12 gauge shotgun and his alleged assailant is being held in parish jail on a charge of murder following a quarrel over a Negro woman yesterday afternoon.

Detective Chief Hugh Tolbert identified the dead man as Florence Lee, 25, and said the shooting occurred yesterday afternoon in a thicket about 200 yards west of Rodgers St. Tolbert said that John Spikes fired the shotgun blast hitting Lee on the right side just under the armpit, killing him instantly.

Authorities quoted the woman, Annie Lee Harmon, admitted common-law wife of Spikes, as saying that Lee came to the Spikes home and dragged her to the thicket where he proceeded to kick and beat her with his fists. She told authorities that she had lived with Lee about six months ago and he was trying to force her to return.

Witnesses said that when Spikes saw Lee beating the Harmon woman, he went to his home, 3007 Gayton, and got the shotgun. He returned to the thicket, yelled for Lee to stop beating the woman, raised the shotgun and fired.

Spikes reportedly returned to the Gayton Street address where he was taken into custody.

Local authorities are still searching for an unidentified fourth party who was reportedly at the scene of the shooting. Spikes was booked with murder awaiting filing of formal charges by District Attorney Fred Fudickar.

Escaped Convicts Believed Hemmed In

MERIDIAN, Miss., Aug. 30 (AP)—Alabama and Mississippi officers today used airplanes and bloodhounds in a search for six of 11 escaped Alabama convicts believed trapped northeast of Meridian.

The hunt for the men began after they were reported to have stopped at a house at Russell, about six miles from here, for food and water.

Five of the 11 convicts, who wriggled through a service tunnel at the Atmore State Prison Farm Wednesday, were recaptured earlier. A widespread search for the other six has been under way.

Remaining at large are Edwin Sanford Garrison, 50, and James Loftin, 28, who Warden S. W. Hixon said led the escape; and Jack Brown, 43, Claude Mollison, 43, James Harold Green, 25, and William E. Belcher, 28.

DOCTOR, POLICE CLEAN UP AFTER BARROOM BRAWL

One person was hospitalized and two jailed last night following a slugging, stomping and slicing session at the Shanghai Cocktail Lounge and Bar, 120 Depot street.

Taken for treatment to the Charity hospital was Odell Blakney, 31, 309 Catalpa street, Monroe. Hospital attendants said he suffered internal injuries and a split lip.

The stabbed victim — Richard G. McAuliffe, 26, 2514 Swiss St., West Monroe — was hospitalized at the Riverside Sanitarium with a five - inch gash between the first and second rib under his left arm. The wound narrowly missed the heart.

Blakney and John McAuliffe, 25, brother of Richard, were booked for aggravated battery. No bond had been set late last night.

Witnesses said the fracas commenced inside the lounge at the bar when one of the injured persons "accidentally shoved" into the other. From there it proceeded to the front of the building where it was reported that the McAuliffe brothers and two soldiers knocked Blakney down, then stomped him.

Attendants at the hospital said Blakney's back was extensively bruised as were other areas of his body.

Mrs. Dryburgh Is Hurt In Collision

News has been received by Mrs. Louis Kuzin that her mother, Mrs. Arthur Dryburgh, was injured in Aurora, Ill., when the automobile in which she was riding with two other ladies was hit by a freight train and pulled for approximately 500 yards.

Mrs. Dryburgh was thrown from the car by the impact. She was taken to a hospital where attendants said she suffered shock, cuts and bruises. She is now at the home of her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fisher, whom she and Mrs. Dryburgh accompanied by Mrs. Kuzin's daughter, Sally Ryan, have been visiting.

If Mrs. Dryburgh's condition continues to improve, she will return to Monroe next week.

resolution "demanding that Gov. Kennon call an election." The V. F. W., spokesman said Friday the organization would hold a special meeting of its members Tuesday night to take action on the resolution.

Meanwhile, Hobbs requested that "voting citizens let the V. F. W. know how they feel by writing to P. O. Box 3244, West Monroe." He asked that the writers sign their names which he assured would not be made public.

Hobbs said he wanted it clearly understood that "the membership of the post is not trying to stir up any political controversy nor taking sides with any political group." They said their only interest was seeing the people of West Monroe elect officials of their choice.

"We are merely taking a stand for good government," one V. F. W. official said.

Considerable criticism of Kennon has sprang up in West Monroe since he appointed three city aldermen last month without consulting local authorities. That was the reason former Mayor C. C. Bell, Jr. gave for his resignation. Kennon announced Wednesday, through acting Mayor R. C. Jolissaint, that he intended to appoint a new man to fill the mayor's post. Jolissaint had called on the governor to ask him to call an election.

However, Kennon told Jolissaint that the constitution gave the governor authority to fill the post by executive appointment and that he saw no reason for not doing so.

Jolissaint, who was serving as a member of the city council and mayor pro tem, was automatically put at the head of city affairs when Bell resigned.

The governor has not said when he would make an appointment nor has he disclosed who his choice might be. However, there has been speculation that he would appoint Allan Norris, his West Monroe campaign manager during Kennon's recent successful bid for governor.

The movement that is now spawning in the V. F. W. post is the first sign of organized, identified opposition to the Kennon appointments. However, forum letters and advertisements have appeared in the local press in opposition.

Apparently the V. F. W. movement will develop into the boldest opposition yet to arise in the matter.

NAVY RELEASING 25 HOMOSEXUALS

BOSTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—The Navy said today that one officer and 24 enlisted men under investigation at the Newport, R. I., Naval Base for alleged homosexuality are being separated from the service.

Lt. Comdr. Bernard S. Solomon, First Naval District public information officer, said the officer has been relieved of command and permitted to submit his resignation. He was described as the commanding officer of a ship but not otherwise identified.

The enlisted men, Solomon said, would be discharged by administrative order under conditions "other than honorable."

Newport is the home base of the Atlantic destroyer fleet.

The Navy said no charges were placed against any of the men.

A First Naval District spokesman offered few details but said the alleged offenses occurred in the past few weeks and both fleet units and shore installations were involved. The same source professed not to know the name of the ship but said he "presumed" it was now at Newport.

The term "museum" derives from a Greek word meaning "temple of the muses."

Deny Absent Soldier A Ballot

The first presidential election since the outbreak of the Korean war comes up this fall. And with it comes up the old problem of letting soldiers who are out of the country help choose their next commander-in-chief.

It's a pretty sorry state of affairs when men most entitled to vote—soldiers fighting their country's hot and cold wars—are not allowed to do so. But that's the way it is for possibly as many as a million of them.

The Armed Forces Information and Education Office has set up certain standards states must meet to insure that their soldiers get a proper chance to cast their ballots. Among these requirements are that the state permit absentee voting. Several do not.

The I. and E. office also specifies that a federal post card be acceptable in lieu of the soldier's ballot. And ballots should be sent out by states to absentee voters in time for them to be in the voters' hands at least 45 days before election day.

However, despite the recent World War II experience, which should have taught us something along these lines, only 18 states meet all the I. and E. requirements for absentee voting.

In the remaining 30 states some soldiers will be allowed to vote in November, but many will be victims of failure by their states to take the necessary legislative steps.

If soldiers were the only ones disfranchised it would be bad enough. But the trap that catches the soldiers also catches thousands of civilians who on Nov. 4 will be carrying on the nation's business in various parts of the world.

It's just about too late to do anything about the situation in time for the coming election. But Congress and the state legislatures certainly should not let another voting time pass without having acted to give the vote to those away from home.

Banks Open Their Eyes To Education

It's taken a war to open our eyes to a new wrinkle in education.

Under the so-called Korean Veterans Bill, discharged members of the Armed Forces who have been on active duty since July, 1950, are entitled to up to 36 months of educational benefits.

But whereas in World War II the money was paid directly to the school, under the new legislation monthly payments from the government will be made to the veteran himself.

This meant that schools, instead of getting a full semester's tuition in advance, were going to have to work out something to accommodate the veterans operating on a month-to-month basis.

One of the first colleges to work out a practical arrangement was the Stevens Institute of Technology of Hoboken, N. J. Stevens, through an arrangement with local banks, is now able to get its tuitions from veterans in an advance lump sum, with the veterans repaying the banks out of their monthly government checks.

Which brings up the point, if such a system can be worked out for veterans why not also for other students who just can't get up the full semester's tuition in advance?

The president of Stevens says several banks throughout the country have written him about his college's plan. This may be a sign, he says, "that financial circles are at last becoming concerned with a problem that has bothered educators for years; how to permit young people, regardless of their economic situations, to attend the college they want to."

And a very good sign it is, too.

Dream Ships

Those who toy with the theory that flying saucers come from other worlds overlook a simple problem in distances which astronomers have been stressing for many generations.

The rocket space ship, not yet built, to be flown by human astronauts would have a calculated speed of more than six miles a second. Theoretically, one of them could reach the moon in a matter of hours. But to get to Alpha Centauri, a star supposed to be 4.3 light years away, would require 130,000 years. At that rate a human being could not reach Mars in a lifetime, let alone one of the more distant solar systems.

So scientists are working on the problem of speeding up their dream rockets. If propulsion were by atomic power, a speed of 6,210 miles a second might be developed, which would take a man to Alpha Centauri in 250 years, if the craft didn't become too weather-worn. That is still more years than a man has.

Perhaps man can take it more slowly. He might come up with a ship speedy enough to get him to Mars in a month, which wouldn't be so bad since the Pilgrims took months to cross the Atlantic. After colonizing Mars, he could take another jump. In the course of centuries human frontiers might be extended far out into space.

This is something to think about along the line of the supposition that the sun is cooling off and a replacement may be needed in a few millenniums. Thus would space be provided for excess population.

Big Banker

The U. S. government has become the biggest banker in the world. The Export-Import Bank, out of net earnings of $51,800,000 in the last fiscal year, has just paid the government a $26,000,000 dividend, with the balance carried to accumulated reserve, which now totals $266,000,000.

From a small beginning in the mid-thirties, the bank has become a billion dollar enterprise, established for the primary purpose of stimulating trade between this country and others through direct loans by private capital. Its lending authority has been gradually increased to a present total of $4,500,000,000.

The bank has loans outstanding in 47 countries. Besides financing cotton and tobacco exports, new credits include loans for production of tungsten and sulphur in Latin America and uranium production in Africa.

George E. Sokolsky:
THESE DAYS

The Institute of Pacific Relations
Gerard Swope, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Institute of Pacific Relations, has addressed a letter to his members in which he states:

"I have read the (McCarra) report myself, and I consider it to be extremely biased and unfair. By innuendo and by omission or distortion of evidence it conveys a thoroughly misleading and prejudiced account of the I.P.R. Some of you may feel that there have been instances of inappropriate conduct or poor judgment on the part of I.P.R. officers or employees in the past and these actions may well be open to legitimate criticism after a fair examination of the attendant circumstances."

I have not only read the report of the McCarra committee's investigation into the Institute of Pacific Relations, but every word of the 14 volumes of testimony and all the documentary evidence attached to them.

I should have imagined that Mr. Swope would have read all the evidence because the report leans over backwards in avoiding prejudice whereas the evidence in detail provides damaging proof of the complicity of officers and employees of the Institute in the Communist conspiracy.

It is the utmost irresponsibility to speak of instances of "inappropriate conduct or poor judgment." Men are responsible for their conduct; institutions are responsible for the men they employ. This cannot be ducked on the assumption that it is possible for the best of us, as for the worst, to make mistakes. We usually have to pay for our mistakes.

The McCarra committee report had this to say on the Institute of Pacific Relations:

"The Institute of Pacific Relations has not maintained the character of an objective, scholarly, and research organization."

"The IPR has been considered by the American Communist party and by Soviet officials as an instrument of Communist policy, propaganda and military intelligence."

"The IPR disseminated and sought to popularize false information including information originating from Soviet and Communist sources."

"A small core of officials and staff members carried the main burden of IPR activities and directed its administration and policies."

"Members of the small core of officials and staff members who controlled IPR were either Communist or pro-Communist."

"There is no evidence that the large majority of its members supported the IPR for any reason except to advance the professed research and scholarly purposes of the organization."

"Most members of the IPR, and most members of its board of trustees, were inactive and obviously without any influence over the policies of the organization and the conduct of its affairs."

"IPR activities were made possible largely through the financial support of American industrialists, corporations, and foundations, the majority of whom were not familiar with the inner workings of the organization."

"The effective leadership of the IPR often sought to deceive IPR contributors and supporters as to the true character and activities of the organization."

"Neither the IPR nor any substantial body of those associated with it as executive officers, trustees or major financial contributors, has ever made any serious and objective investigation of the charges that the IPR was infiltrated by Communists and was used for pro-Communist and pro-Soviet purposes."

"The names of eminent individuals were by design used as a respectable and impressive screen for the activities of the IPR inner core, and as a defense when such activities came under scrutiny."

Every statement herewith quoted can be fully substantiated by the evidence in the 14 volumes of the McCarra committee hearings. Mr. Swope does not refer to a single item in those hearings in this letter. He does not call attention to a single error. He does not specify a single injustice by the committee. He does not defend anyone accused by the committee.

His answer to the enormous work done by the McCarra committee is this:

"... I am glad to say that many IPR members and large corporations (among them the Standard Vacuum Oil Company, the International General Electric Company, the National City Bank, the Bankers Trust Company, and the National Cash Register Company) have in recent weeks shown their support by renewing their generous contributions."

The McCarra committee might now inquire why an organization that has "disseminated and sought to popularize false information including information originating from Soviet and Communist sources" should be tax-exempt or why contributions to it should be deductible as a charity. That might also be considered by the Cox committee.

Ripley's Believe It or Not!

Walter Winchell

Man Playing the Remington
Sample of slanted reporting in a local editorial: "Newsweek, plugged regularly in the WW pillar (on its current press page)... That's just the point we tried to make the other morning about factual and slanted reporting. ... We have saluted Newsweek's report - a lot - despite the fact Newsweek has given us the worst of it more than any national publication."

On at least three occasions Newsweek either got careless with the facts (about us) or gave the floppiest position the best of it when we were in a dogfight. ... The first time was when Newsweek (like so many others), desperate for some quick circulation, decided to "use Winchell." ... It took page ads in some dailies with "War De-clared" type, which yelled: "Winchell's Real Name! See News-Week, out tomorrow!" ... We let three days go by and then phoned the editor: "Mr. Williamson, this is Walter Winchell." ... "Well, well," cackled Mr. Williamson. "We wondered when you were going to call. What's the squawk?" ... "No squawk. Just thought I'd tell you that since you fellows are in the re-write business, ..."

"The research business," he interrupted. ... "Okay," we said, "research then. Don't any of you up there know how to read?" ... "That's my mother's maiden name you claim is mine," we cooed. ... There was a slight pause - then an agonized scream of "Ohhhhh, mmmmyyy Gahhhhhh!" ... And he hung up. ... Later he sent his regrets in these words: "Thank you for your good letter about an atrocious mistake. It's just the kind of a note you yourself would want to get if you'd been wrong."

Then there was the time the Miami Herald got a call from a tourist who calmly reported: "My husband and I just drove down from Michigan. Unless we find a certain type of blood before tomorrow morning he will die." ... "Look, lady," said the Herald desk chief, "give it to me fast. Our first edition is on the streets but Winchell appears in our paper and he goes on the air any minute (it was then 8:56 p.m.) and perhaps he will help." ... It was exactly 9 p.m. (Sunday night) and I was in the middle of "Mr. and Mrs. North and South America" when a hurriedly-scribbled memo was shoved under my nose. I went right into it: "They just handed me this! A man is dying at Biscayne Hospital in Miami, Florida! This is only for people in Florida, please! If you have R-H blood please hurry to Biscayne Hospital and save a life!"

Robert Kintner, the chief of the network, and his aide, Tom Velato, phoned from New York not long after. ... "Tell WW he must go on again at 11 o'clock and report on what followed, if anything! We have had calls from every State in the Union already. We stopped counting them after the first 1,000 calls! The girls at the boards here are going daffy. Everybody claims having that blood." ... In the meantime, a war vet named Nathan Dash was one of thousands who congested the streets near that hospital. ... His blood saved the man's life. ... The nurse, ironically, was slain a year later and the young doctor died that same year. ... The marriage of the press and radio in this story (of saving a life) was ignored by Time, but Newsweek devoted an entire page to it - and belittled it all with: "Winchell was hysterical in the 48 states ran it in full (with the photos) and then panned us editorially for not calling Costello by his aliases and other names. We followed orders and quoted what he said. ... An opposition newspaper there kidded us with an amusing satire on the skewp by having a staffer interview the town's drunk (again in the local hoghouse) on what he had to say. We enjoyed it - as well as their fingering biting - ... Time magazine, however, gave it the old ignore, but Newsweek gave it the factual reporting treatment by simply running the Ha-Ha the way our Miami critic wrote it. ... The fact is: Time has courted us more often. It once had us on the cover with a flattering inside piece. In Brazil (on a tour of duty) Time's correspondents patty-caked us (for something or other) and Henry Luce once ordered a retraction (with photo yet) on a story (about us) which he agreed was 100 per cent wrong."

Then why the argument? ... No argument. ... We discovered how careless they get with the truth (when they want to) and that the staff was crummy with commodities. So we said so (many times) and apparently we hoisted their feelings. ... But when it is pointed that Newsweek gets puffs in this column and that it returns the compliment - that's slanted reporting again. The point we tried to make Monday ... But "log-rolling?" N-h-h. ... FPA said it best. ... Once a reader wrote him: "Oh, you columnists! Always log-rolling each other." ... He quipped: "The only logs we ever roll are over each other's necks!"

The Broadway Line: Jerry (Martin & Lewis) belted a Midwest disc jockey (all over the kitchen of a night spot) for slurs. ... Vice-sleuths are gunning for a pro at a swank country club on L. I. ... Ditto a Madison Avenue citizen posing as an architect. ... Show-gel Geene Courtney tells chums she may wed lawyer Clark, who landed on a columnist and the front pages. ... Ex-Ambassador J. P. Kennedy is the landlord of the "worst offender" among the downtown restaurants cited by U. S. Attorney Myles J. Lane as chisellers and price-tites. ... Loveliest News of the Decade: "Wish You Were Here" is now a Smash Hit Musical! ... Add Howls! Shirley Talbert, runner-up to Miss N. Y. City (Joan Kayne of the Copa), is suing her -alleging the winner hails from New Jersey. Shirley's from Washington, D. C. ... Ike will start belting hard on Tuesday in the Deep South he will shout: "There can't be any 2nd Class citizens!" ... Repubs offer even money that McCarthy "will win the Primaries 3 to 1." His backers are flooding his State with hefty dough. ... Taxi tycoon (and Burma Road Commissioner in wartime) Danny Arnshein and thrush Farmer Murray have let it perish. ... Prettiest thing in town: Washington columnist Doris Fleenor's dgtr. ... How objective can you get? Diana Lynn got a rave notice from critic Dick Watts while he was in L. A. covering "Moon L. Blue." We have it on unreliable authority that they are about to wed. ... From the N. Y. Post: "WW's Back in Form." ... You can't win me back with flattery.

BASCOT TIMMONS
IN WASHINGTON

That the Republicans face a serious problem in capturing control of the Senate this November is widely known, and is so accepted at GOP national headquarters here.

But that the Republicans may have almost as much difficulty capturing control of the House of Representatives is just being impressed upon party leaders.

Barring an Eisenhower landslide which would pull in enough congressional candidates to give the GOP a safe working margin, the problem on the house side is no less difficult than it is in the Senate.

The main problem is that the Democrats start the race with 150 seats out of the 218 they need to control the house just about "in the bag." These are the seats in the Solid South and border states which the Republicans scarcely can hope to capture, come what may.

Further, the Democrats, despite the serious reverses suffered in the 1950 off year election now control all of the seats they need to reach 218, plus 13 others, a total of 231 at the present time.

Representative Michael J. Kirwan (Dem. Ohio), chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, says he is ready to take bets on the house majority. He has just completed a national survey of the congressional situation and he is confident the Democrats will go ahead rather than lose ground.

He points out that in his own state of Ohio the Democrats hold only 6 of 23 congressional seats. At the present time. He figures they'll pick up at least four seats. He believes a couple of seats the Democrats lost in Indiana in the off year Republican sweep in 1950 will be recaptured, one or two in Illinois, and so on. His claims are modest, but what they add up to is that if Stevenson wins, he will have a solid working majority of Democrats in the house, while if Eisenhower wins, he'll have a tough time getting a GOP majority in that body.

Certainly the Democrats start from a better position than they did in 1948 when at the end of the 80th Congress they held only 199 seats to the Republicans' 235. When the smoke cleared after election day, the Democrats had 263 seats and the Republicans only 171.

This sweep, it has been pointed out, was made in a year when Truman barely edged out Dewey in the crucial states.

For instance, in Ohio where Truman won by a scant 7,000 votes, Democratic congressional candidates captured 12 districts, where before they had held only four. In Pennsylvania Democrats gained 11 congressional districts while Republicans actually carried the state. The same was true in many other areas.

Political records show that if the Independent voter is unpredictable on the presidential vote, he usually seems to go along with the majority in a congressional election. With the Democrats now controlling congress, this could mean that Eisenhower could take enough of the independent vote for a narrow victory and the Republicans still lose control of the house.

One factor which supports this is that the Republicans regained most of the normally Republican territory in the 1950 congressional

IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Movies Without Popcorn: Olivia de Havilland in a blue negligee is brushing her hair and swapping dialog with British newcomer Richard Burton in a key scene for "My Cousin Rachel." The stars are let perfect in their lines, but Director Henry Koster is worried because Olivia and Burton are framed against a four-poster bed.

He holds a conference with the cameraman and a few minutes later the camera set-up is changed. So when you'll see "My Cousin Rachel" in movie theaters you won't see the bed.

In real life when couples go to sleep, the angels watch.

In Hollywood, the censors watch.

An Everglades swamp filled with quicksand has been constructed on the U-I lot for "Seminole," a story of U. S. cavalrymen and Indians in 1835. I arrive on the set as Director Bud Boetticher is about to film a scene in which Rock Hudson, Richard Carlson, Jimmy Best and 14 stunt men sink into the sucking mire.

It's done by means of a hydraulic jack, hidden under ground cork, and there's tension in the air as the camera turns.

When the lights go on and a rescue man in a diving helmet reports that all the actors are safe, Boetticher, who directed "The Bullfighter and the Lady," sighs, "Bulls are safer."

MGM Economy

Elizabeth Taylor, Fernando Lamas, William Powell and Gig Young are the principals at work in MGM's "The Girl Who Had Everything." Lamas, on one side of the room, and Gig, sitting with Liz and Powell on the other side, are bidding against one another for a thoroughbred yearling.

Extras crane their necks as the stars start at $10,000 and raise their bids. At one point, Lamas exceeds the figure in the script and the director calls for another run-through before trying for a "take."

"Twenty thousand, 40 thousand," shrugs Lamas. "Who cares—it's MGM's money."

Betty Grable, John Carroll and Dale Robertson, coached by Jack Cole, are in the midst of a dream ballet sequence for "The Farmer Takes a Wife" at Fox.

Shapely Betty is dressed in filmy, transparent draperies and there's nothing to indicate that the story takes place on the Erie Canal in 1850.

When I ask about it, I'm told that Betty is indeed a period heroine.

"It's just that she has modern dreams," my studio informant explains.

Ida Lupino, dressed as if she were on her way to a lawn party, is directing Edmond O'Brien and Frank Lovejoy for a tense, brutal scene in "The Difference." It's the story of a maniacal killer, played by Bill Talman, who kidnaps two businessmen on a fishing trip and holds them as hostages.

Says frail, delicate Ida: "All I can say is that I hope my next film will be against the background of a French boudoir."

That TV influence
"The Pony Express" company is shooting outdoors on the Paramount lot and there are more than the usual quota of visitors on hand to watch Charlton Heston, Rhonda Fleming, Jan Sterling and Forrest Tucker at work in front of the studio's permanent western town.

Wranglers guide horses past the camera and dust clouds rise from the ground as a prelude to a gun fight between Heston, as Buffalo Bill, and Tucker, as Wild Bill Hickok.

A small TV-minded boy who is watching the scene with his parents suddenly blurts it out: "If that's Wild Bill Hickok, where's Andy Devine?"

Pretty Debra Paget, whistle stuff in emerald-green leotards, and a group of dancers are being put through their paces by Dance Director Nick Castle in a musical number in the Sousa biography, "The Stars and Stripes Forever," at Fox.

As the dancers rehearse, the camera follows them as it will when actual shooting begins. This is Debra's first chance as a musical comedy queen and I'm told that the voice ringing from the play-back machine is her own.

"But not her costume," whispers a studio onlooker. "Betty Grable wore it a couple of pictures back."

elections, consequently can't go much further in that direction.

For example, in Michigan the Republicans now lead 12 seats to five, in Illinois 10 to 8, in Pennsylvania 20 to 13, in Wisconsin 9 to 1, in Massachusetts 8 to 6 and in New Jersey 5 to 4. That narrows the possibility of gain in those normally Republican states, because most of the Democratic seats are held by members of more than a freshman vintage with enough political "know-how" to win despite a mild Republican surge.

In the west, where Eisenhower's strength seems to be most promising, the Republicans hold all the seats in Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Oregon, North and South Dakota, and have an edge in California by 13 to 10.

With a smashing victory, the Republican nominee could take the house. But until he gathers a head of steam sufficient to win by a good margin of electoral votes, his chances of carrying either branch of congress are not too promising. The country has never had an election where a newly elected President failed to carry in a congress controlled by his own party.

Peter Edson
IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The battle for the so-called "labor vote" in the presidential campaign presents one of the more confused sectors on the political front.

Republican spokesmen have already tried to pin on Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson the label of "Captive of the CIO-PAC"—the Congress of Industrial Organizations-Political Action Committee. An attempt was made to put this hex on the Democrats in the Roosevelt and Truman campaigns, but they won anyway.

On the other hand, some Republican spokesmen like Senator Taft attempt to prove that there is no such thing as a "labor vote." By his victory in the Ohio senatorial race of 1950, Taft proved to his own satisfaction at least that working men and women are primarily people, and that they vote as individuals—not at the dictation of union labor officials.

Some of Senator Taft's Ohio managers and statisticians figured out that at least 35 per cent of the union labor members voted for him in 1950. CIO-PAC people point out here that "35 per cent ain't 51." And until half the union members start voting Republican, the GOP can't claim that it has union labor's support.

Republican campaign headquarters in Washington, however, is determined to make a major pitch for the labor vote this year. The appeal is to be based on the belief that there is considerable difference of opinion between rank-and-file union membership and the labor bosses.

GOP's Campaign Not Organized

This has been the contention of many big business employers for some time, particularly on the union shop issue and the Taft-Hartley law as a whole.

Most of these employers are probably Republicans, so this GOP tack will catch their straw votes in the political winds. Whether it will catch many rank-and-file union members' votes is something else again.

The plans for the Republican campaign for the labor vote are now in the hands of GOP National Chairman Arthur Summerfield. No decision has been made as to who will head up the drive. Big Bill Hutcheson of the AFL-Carpenters did it in 1948.

At Democratic headquarters, the campaign for the labor vote is already organized and on. It is being run by George M. Harrison, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, and Eli Oliver, who formerly worked with the late Sidney Hillman in PAC.

Mr. Harrison is expected to do a better job of this than he did as labor's representative on C. Wilson's Office of Defense Mobilization staff. At ODM, Harrison took his oath of office and never thereafter reported for work.

At Democratic headquarters there is no false modesty about accepting support from any level of the labor movement—the international officers, Washington lobbyists, organizers, local officials or rank-and-file membership.

The Democratic platform is pitched for a direct appeal for this potential vote of 15 million members, plus another 15 million in their families.

There's No Unity In Unions
Within the union labor movement itself there is no unanimous opinion, no unified plan of political action. John L. Lewis of the Mine Workers sums this up in his statement that American labor faces an era of threats to its very existence.

"The men and women of the ranks of labor cry aloud for unity," says Mr. Lewis. "The spectacle of the segments of organized labor in America heaving and shoving in all directions—or in no direction—gives aid and comfort to those who would destroy us and institute their own, modern version of serfdom."

Politically, Lewis still runs his own "Labor's Non-Partisan League." CIO has its PAC. AFL runs its LPE—Labor's League for Political Education. Railway Brotherhoods run their RPLP—Railway Labor's Political League. And so on.

They travel parallel paths, there is no labor conspiracy throw the election one way or the other.

CIO's executive board has recommended to PAC that it support the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket. That's as good as an order. Several of the railway brotherhoods have independently endorsed the Democrats.

AFL is trying to stick to its traditional policy of "Elect our friends! Defeat our enemies," President William Green insists "Labor is not neutral."

How un-neutral it is will probably be shown after both Eisenhower and Stevenson address AFL national convention in September. AFL just can't buy GOP platform. Ike will have pulled a rabbit out of his hat to an endorsement.

MYERS KNOCKED OUT OF LABOR DAY GOLF MEET

Medalist Loses To Badgett 1 Up On 18th; Schumacher Wins

Ray Moore And Don Parks Finished All Square After 20 Holes, Winner Plays Monte Sanders; Schumacher-Badgett Match Sunday Feature

Johnny Myers, tourney medalist and heavy favorite, was knocked out of the Fourth Annual Cotton States Invitational Labor Day Golf Tournament at Bayou DeSiard Golf and Country Club, in the first round by Troy Badgett, long knocker and steady shotmaker from North Texas State, 1 up, Saturday afternoon in a close match after being 1 up the first nine holes.

Myers finished the outgoing 9 in 3 shots, but Badgett played well under tremendous pressure to come from behind and square the match.

Coming to 18 they were all square. Badgett hit the green on the tee, while Myers was out to the right. Myers hit approach a little crisp and the 1 stopped six feet past the pin. Badgett missed the putt for a bogie 4, but Myers putted for a par three to win 1 up.

On number 15 Myers was 2 up and 4 to go, but Badgett came through with some fine shots and putts to get even and finally emerge victorious.

Don Schumacher, also a heavy favorite, from Dallas, Tex., and holder of numerous titles, fired a 1 under par, 69, to eliminate Paul Jones, of Bastrop, the smallest man in the championship flight, in one of the toughest matches of the day.

Don was three down the first three holes to Jones who had two birdies and a par. Schumacher managed to catch back one hole before finishing the outgoing nine, finishing two down.

He played some steady golf on the incoming nine and was one up coming to the eighteenth tee. He hit his tee shot pin high, one foot off the green and Jones pushed his shot to the left, about thirty feet from the stick. Jones in trying hard to get close somehow tapped his ball a few feet and then pitched up about four feet from the cup.

Schumacher putted up four inches from the hole and the match was over.

Badgett, playing a beautiful steady game of golf to eliminate Myers, and Schumacher meet this morning which proves to be the feature match of the second round, and could very easily be the best match of the tournament. Badgett plays a low, long ball and resembles Tommy Bolt, both in appearance and in his club wielding.

Don January, followed by the largest gallery of the first round matches, including Miss Betty Benedict, Times-Picayune golf writer, had an easy time disposing of Capt. Rooker, of New Orleans, shooting a 34, 1 under par, on the outgoing nine to go seven up and finished off the captain's 5 and 4. Rooker played the incoming 9 much better, winning number ten hole, but January, the defending champion, had too much of a commanding lead and was hitting all his shots too well to be defeated victoriously.

Ray Moore and Don Parks played the closest match of the day and one of the toughest and hardest fought. Moore finished the front nine 1 up with a 36, but Parks broke down on the back side to pick up a hole and square the match on the sixteenth green. They each had four on the seventeenth.

Coming to eighteen all square, Parks was 30 yards short of the green and to the left, while Moore was on the green, ten feet past the cup. Parks, after looking over his shot carefully stroked his ball the cup for a birdie 2 and what would have proved to be match-winning. However, Moore, not to outdone, carefully looked over putting service and stroked the ball in the back of the cup for a tie also and a half to throw match into extra holes or one.

They halved holes number one and two, where darkness overtook them, forcing them to wait till morning for a sudden-death play-off.

Bill Hill and Jim Mangum finished all square and Mangum had birdie 3 on the first extra hole win one up in nineteenth holes. Mangum was one down after the outgoing nine as Mill missed an eight-footer for a birdie on number nine hole.

Jackie Doss, another local favorite, polished off District Attorney Fred Fudickar, 7 and 6, with his booming drives and sub par golf. Doss was four up the first nine with a 35, and when they finished he was two under standard figures. Fudickar played well but not quite good enough to handle Doss Saturday.

Jimmy Powell, a fine player and another player expected to go far in the meet, polished off Kenny Holt, 5 and 4.

Holt played badly the front nine and was six down at the turn, and failed to catch up as Powell finished the match with a two under par score.

Bobby Kellogg managed to come through with a close one up decision over Joe Bennett the first nine holes and closed out the shotmaker from North Texas State, 3 and 2.

Corbin Turpin, local long-knocker, had an easy time with Buddy Sprague, winning 8 and 7. Clyde Nash, playing the back side under par, defeated Speed Bancroft, 5 and 4.

Bill Jones, another local entry, and favorite, had a 33 to go 6 up on the front side and was never headed by Lee Corbrey, winning 7 and 6.

Benny Castilo, playing well, especially in the clutch, defeated J. K. Sistrunk, 1 up. Shep Girault defeated Ed Shaver in a close, hard-played match, 2 up.

Chuck Riblin, Ohio State University team player, another favorite, and a steady shotmaker, disposed of Albert Austin, Bastrop, 4 and 3.

McVea Oliver, local player, defeated Roe Cagnoliotti, of New Orleans, 4 and 2. Monte Sanders, fired a 33 on the outgoing nine to go 2 up on E. B. Paddy, and Paddy was unable to match the smooth stroking North Texas State player on the incoming nine, as Sanders continued his sub-par golf to win 5 and 4.

No. 1 hole continued to be a big hazard as Fudickar, Shaver, Castilo and Bennett hit balls out of bounds, and Corbrey hit one in the woods.

Some three hundred persons milled around from tee to green and the clubhouse watching the various players as a cordial invitation had been extended to the public to watch the matches. An even larger turnout is expected Sunday and Monday.

Joe Rountree, official starter, and Wilson Sporting Goods representative, is doing a wonderful job getting the players off on time and asks for cooperation in showing up on time for matches.

The championship flight will tee off at 8:30 a.m. today with the following pairings:

January meets Turpin. Doss is paired against Nash. Mangum vs. Girault. Powell will play Schumacher. Badgett meets Castilo. Kellogg is to play Bill Jones. McVea Oliver meets Riblin and the winner of the extra-hole match between Moore and Parks will play Sanders.

30 Experienced Gridders Will Form Nucleus Of Tech's Football Squad

4 Returning Servicemen In Group Meeting Ail-let Monday

RUSTON, Aug. 30 (Special)—At least four returning servicemen and 27 other experienced griders were expected to form the nucleus of Louisiana Tech's football squad as the first practice sessions of the season were docketed for Labor Day.

Four Caddo Techsters, who took time out for a hitch in the armed forces, will switch to a Bulldog uniform. They are Paul Morgan, guard, Billy Golden, tackle, and Jerry Leonard, back, all of Shreveport, and Billy B. Cooper, tackle, of Oil City.

The tentative list of 31 returning candidates is fairly well balanced from the numerical point of view, with the early roster showing six ends, six tackles, five guards, two centers and 12 backs. Freshman prospects at this stage of the game, of course, are intangible items.

On the Tech chart this fall will be Jack Martin of Haynesville, a left halfback, who attended college here last year but was unable to participate in football because of previous gridiron engagements.

Other Bulldogs prospects for the coming season include the following men:

Ends—Tommy Woodall, co-captain, Bossier City; James Mardis, Sulphur; Kenneth Bates, Monroe; Charles Walker, Baton Rouge; Gordon Brown, Ruston; and Elmo Bourgeois, Sulphur.

Tackles—Don Brown, Shreveport; John Fischer, New Orleans; Buster Lumm, Oak Grove; and John Baugh, Monroe.

Guards—Jack Bennett, Jonesboro; Jimmy Sneed, Shreveport; Billy Joe Adcox, El Dorado; and Jesse Storts, Lake Charles.

Centers—Victor Perry, Bastrop, and Walter Savage, co-captain, Bastrop.

Quarterbacks—Bob Fenner, Lake Charles; Billy Bond, Haynesville; Jimmy Brown, Idabel, Okla.; Norman Moore, El Dorado; and George Ferrington, Winnsboro.

Halfbacks—Benji Smith, Ruston; and John McMichael, Cotton Valley.

Fullbacks—Charles Russell, Shreveport; James Oliver, Bossier City, and Frank Pernici, Shreveport.

The Techmen will have three weeks in which to prepare for the opener to be played at Ruston at 8 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 20, with McNeese State College of Lake Charles.

Last year, the McNeese Cowboys chalked up victories over Northwestern, 38-21; Northeast State, 25-13; Arkansas A. and M., 35-14; Lamar Tech, 13-6; and twice defeated Louisiana College, 21-13, during the regular season, and 13-6 in the Cosmopolitan bowl game at Alexandria. They tied Stephen F. Austin, 14-14, and lost to Southwestern Louisiana Institute, 35-14, and Sam Houston, 20-13, and Southeastern, 9-6.

HUSKY HAWAIIAN WOMEN'S CHAMP

Mrs. Pung, 210-Pounder, Beats Out Shirley McFedters

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 30 (P)—Mrs. Jacqueline Pung, a 210-pound Hawaiian housewife who was almost ready to give up golf, became the Women's National Amateur golf champion today.

By sheer determination and self-control, she shook off an early attack of jitters to defeat Shirley McFedters, a 21-year-old college girl from Long Beach, Calif., 2 and 1, in the 36-hole final match.

It was a shaky-nerve affair from start to finish, but Shirley's calm confidence deserted her on the crucial outgoing nine of the afternoon round while the older, more placid Mrs. Pung gained control.

Mrs. Pung, one of the longest hitters in women's golf, is a former public links player. She is 29 years old, mother of two children who are training to become swimmers. She works as a sales clerk in a chain store in Honolulu.

Her Chinese husband is a fireman. She probably was the rankiest outsider in the tournament with the exception of her opponent in the final.

Miss McFedters, who sank a putt in the darkness of a playoff to qualify for match play, went through three extra-hole matches to reach the final. All that time she appeared nervous but today her icy calm melted under the bright sun that shone on the Waverly Country Club course.

After the first 13 holes, Mrs. Pung was five down and seemed to be falling apart. Thirteen holes farther along she was two up and plodding steadily toward victory.

Defending District Champs May Have Tough Time Retaining Their Crowns

At Least One Strong Contender In Each 'AA' Zone

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 30 (P)—Defending district champions may be in for a tough time in Louisiana double A prep football this year.

In each of the four districts, the champ faces a threat from at least one team. And in each district one of last year's also-rans has more experienced players back than does the reigning power.

A quick look at the defending champions shows:

North district—Fair Park of Shreveport lost 13 lettermen—eight of them starters—but has a pair of heavy tackles and fullback Tommy Davis returning from last year's state runnerup squad.

Southwest district—Terrebonne of Houma has 10 of 27 lettermen back—five of them starters—including backfield aces Gordon King and Bobby Kimball.

New Orleans—Holy Cross has 14 lettermen in camp—at least one to every position—and there's 220-pound junior fullback Lou Deutchmann.

Scutell district—Istrouma will seek its third state championship with the services of 18 lettermen, including Dick Jamison and Winston Turner in the backfield.

Fair Park probably needs help from B teamers more than any of the four; new quarterback Gene Sauer from Texarkana is expected to do a lot of passing from a new-style T formation based on that used by tricky Texas Christian University, Tackles Harvey Brown, 240, and Kenneth Fountain, 200, will help provide cover.

Quadrant of Monroe looks like the team that might take over in the district. Seven starters and six other lettermen are on hand. The line looks like a 200-pound unit between tackles Quarterback Jerry Sikes and ace runner Frank Mobley lead the backs.

Of the other teams in the north, Byrd of Shreveport lost 27 of 31 lettermen with quarterback Curtis Mewbourne the only regular returning; Bossier City might be a dark horse with 15 lettermen, including star backs Charles DeSader and Adair Cox; Bastrop will make its double-A debut with a light squad and 15 lettermen; Haynesville could improve after losing all its district games in 1951.

Sulphur and Lake Charles should give Terrebonne a run in the southwest.

Sulphur has eight regulars and eight other lettermen on hand and needs only a capable quarterback. Track men Jerry Wilburn and John Scofield are at halfbacks and two-year veteran Ed Burleson at full, behind a solid line.

Lake Charles has a top-flight T quarterback in 185-pounder Jerry Lewis, a 180-pound runner Glenn Hathaway at halfback and a good-sized line. Reserves are questionable. Ten lettermen are available.

Of the other teams Jennings has only four regulars and six other lettermen back from a fine team and must rebuild; Lafayette has nine regulars and five other lettermen from a mediocre team and should improve; Bolton of Alexandria has four regulars and five other lettermen from a poor season and should improve; New Iberia makes its double-A debut with four lettermen from a 7-1 class A team.

The top southeast challenger could come from any of the other three schools. Catholic high of Baton Rouge, Baton Rouge and Bogalusa are all expecting better teams.

Bogalusa has 17 of 25 lettermen back from the school's poorest season. The line will average about 170 pounds. Robert Alford, a 155-pound quarterback, will run things.

Baton Rouge high has 11 lettermen in camp. They include top backs Ronnie Quillian, C. J. Pietri and Jerry Cannon. The line is experienced.

Catholic high has a pair of fine backs in elusive Justin Fernandez and powerful Andy Scroeder. Guard Cooter Zimmerle leads the line. The team is switching to the T formation and has a pair of neat young quarterbacks in Art Bertrand and Homer Helmke. Fifteen lettermen are on hand.

Jesuit, which tied Holy Cross in regular season play only to lose in a playoff, will be one of the top New Orleans challengers. Quarterback Don Trahan leads 16 lettermen, which include a center, three ends, three tackles and four guards.

Warren Easton has a beefy line, but may need backfield help. Top hopes are quarterback Jack Cahill and freshman Ray Ficaro.

JACOBS TAMES MILLERS ON TWO HITS, 2 TO 1

MONROE CRACKS MERIDIAN WITH 4 BLOWS IN 7TH

Andrews, Harrington, Jacobs Provide Payoff Punch

The strong right arm of Otis Jacobs, Monroe's 20-game winner during the regular season, tamed the Meridian Millers on two hits here last night as the Sports broke into the win column in the Cotton States League's semi-final series with a 2 to 1 triumph. The Millers still lead the series, two games to one.

Jacobs, who had pitched 25 consecutive scoreless innings (including two previous games) until the Millers tallied their only run in the ninth inning, also figured strong in Monroe's attack, getting two hits and batting in what proved to be the winning run in the seventh inning with a single that scored Manager Charley Harrington. Harrington and Jacobs had hit "back-to-back" doubles in the same frame to break open the scoring.

The lone run off Jacobs was unearned, coming as the result of an error after he had hit Gene Pompella with a pitched ball and walked Hugh Glaze.

Charles "Bert" Gross, the losing pitcher, hurled eight hit balls for the Millers, but the Sports got exactly half of those blows in their seventh inning rally. Gross didn't walk a batter.

The Monroe victory makes the series a certainty to go five games with contests here Monday night as well as this afternoon. Today's game will begin at 4 o'clock with Joe Kopach slated to pitch for the Millers with Marvin "Hoppy" Hatcher working on the mound for the Sports.

Gross had permitted only three hits until the Sports cracked his defense in the seventh to break the scoreless deadlock.

George Andrews, who had reached Gross for an infield hit in the second inning, led off the bottom of the seventh with a double down the third base line. Manager Charley Harrington lined a drive down the left field line that bounced into foul territory, scoring Andrews. Harrington made it all the way to third but was put back on second, getting a ground rule double when his drive bounced out of bounds behind the clubhouse fence. Ray Rogers grounded out, advancing Harrington who scored on an infield hit by Jacobs. Pat Saviano tagged Gross for the fourth hit of the inning before the Millers got out the side.

The Millers never got a runner as far as second base until Gross singled in the sixth and was sacrificed to second by Pompella, but they never seriously threatened until the ninth when a lone hit might have changed the whole complexion of the game.

Jacobs walked Pompella to start the ninth. Hard hitting Joe Guidice flied out to Nelson Daehn in center field, but Glaze worked Jacobs for a free pass. Davis grounded to Harrington at third, and the Monroe skipper, apparently over-anxious to handle an apparent force play at third, let the ball get through and Pompella scored. The holding up at second.

Then with runners on second and third, Jacobs notched his win for sure when Bill Lewis hit into a double play — Jesse Van Winkle to Andrews, covering second, to Johnny Jones on first.

Down Dodgers 4-3 On William's Homer Giants Keep Dim Pennant Hopes Alive;

Maglie Beats Brooklyn For Fifth Time This Year

BROOKLYN, Aug. 30 (AP)—The New York Giants kept their flickering pennant hopes alive Saturday night, beating the pace-setting Brooklyn Dodgers, 4-3, on Dave Williams' three-run homer in the fourth inning. The victory cut Brooklyn's lead over the Giants to eight games.

The largest Brooklyn crowd of the season, 32,154 fans saw Dodger Killer Sal Maglie tame the Brooks for the fifth time. Maglie, who has shut out the Dodgers three times this season, surrendered ten hits but he blanked the league-leaders after the fourth inning on four singles. It was his 14th.

UNITY IN BOXING WILL BE SOUGHT

N. B. A. May Iron Out Differences With Other Groups

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—One of the world's most disorganized sports, boxing, may be a little less confused—and confusing—after the annual meeting of the National Boxing Association starting in Montreal Sept. 7.

There's a good chance that an international agreement will be worked out between the NBA and the British Boxing Board for a joint committee to determine championship ratings whenever a vacancy occurs.

And there's a chance that a uniform scoring system will be adopted for all NBA states. Col. Harvey L. Miller, executive secretary of the NBA said in an interview today that the British have asked for an agreement on ratings.

"In the past," the colonel said, "The British feel we have ignored some of their worthy challenges. I think they probably are right."

As for a uniform scoring system, Miller said that practically everyone is for it (there now are five different systems used.) Among those pushing for uniformity: Abe Greene, national boxing commissioner, and hundreds of television fans, who have become thoroughly confused at the differences in scoring.

The U. S. boxing world is split into two parts. On one side is the New York State athletic commission. On the other is the NBA. New York is the only important state which doesn't belong to the national association.

This has led to such interesting situations as: (1) a "world" champion may be recognized in New York, but nowhere else, or (2) a boxer may be suspended in all the rest of the U. S., but still able to fight in New York, where the big money is.

But some of these difficulties may be ironed out. Chairman Robert K. Christenberry of the New York commission has accepted an invitation to attend the Montreal meeting.

One tie-in already has been completed. On Thursday the New York commission signed an agreement with the British board to honor each other's suspensions. The British board is affiliated with the N.B.A. But even within the N.B.A. there are differences. That's because each state (and some cities) has its own board of boxing.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 30 (AP)—Lee Sala, Donora, Pa., middleweight signed today to meet Otis Graham of Philadelphia in a 10-round feature bout at nearby Braddock on Tuesday, Sept. 16.

Monroe's Jones Runner-Up To Allen For Cotton States League Bat Title

But John Paul Has Most Hits, Total Bases And RBIs

BY J. P. FRIEND

BLITHEVILLE, Ark., Aug. 30. (Special)—Don Allen, Natchez first baseman, is the unofficial batting champion of the Cotton States League for 1952.

Collecting nine hits in 25 times at bat during the last week the Indian first sacker picked up two points to boost his mace mark to .335, and finished with six points to spare over his nearest rival, John Paul Jones, Monroe.

Semi-official records as compiled by the Friend News Service list, Allen with 361 times at bat and 121 hits in 95 straight games after being purchased from Hopkinsville, Ky., of the Kitty League. He has 18 doubles, nine triples and homers, 68 runs and 61 runs batted in as a season plate total.

Jones, a constant threat all year and star of the annual East-West classic, also wound up a highly successful campaign with an impressive record. The former Texas Christian University all-round athlete participated in all of his team's 126 games, came through with 163 safeties—the most, including 22 doubles, 11 triples, seven home runs for 228 total bases, also top. He made it a "triple" by batting in 91 runs.

Johnny Tidwell, Greenwood outfielder rated the No. 3 position with .311, after leading the loop for almost two months. He left the Dodgers on August 15 to assume his duties as athletic director-coach at Aberdeen, Miss.

Fourth place went to Troy Mitchell, Natchez skipper, who slammed two home runs in the finale, as many as he bagged in 118 contests. His final average was .309. Ray Perry, the leader in home runs, 15, took fifth with .308, just a point ahead of Greenville's slugging first baseman, Bob Churchill, with .307. Churchill, holder of the Tri-State League batting record and three-time swat champion, had an unusually high runs batted in average with the Bucks. He sent in 67 mates in 74 games.

Hillis Layne, who piloted the Pine Bluff Judges to sixth place, came in seventh among the batters with .306, with Meridian's Hugh Glaze in the eighth spot at .303. Leon Waskz, Pine Bluff's peppery catcher, was just outside the .300 circle for ninth, with Nelson (Nellie) Daehn, Monroe's prize rookie rounding out the Big 10 with .296. Had Greenwood's fleet Bob Dolan been in the lineup at the start of the year and continued the dazzling pace of 75 contests he may have come through with some records. As it was he led in triples 14, two more than George Wesruk collected in 40 more games. He also swiped 29 bags, as compared to Bill Carr's (Natchez) leading 45 in 126 outings. Marty Devlin, Greenwood's theft ace, finished a strong second to Carr with 41 in an exciting year—long battle

Gene Pompella, Meridian, was the only member of the 100-run club, with two to spare. Devlin was closest with 81. Roxie Humberson, El Dorado (14) and Dolf Regelsky, Meridian (13) offered good competition for Perry in the home run derby. Regelsky sat out the last four games by order of Pres. Al Haraway. He was sold to the St. Louis Cardinals before the race was over and is scheduled to report next spring to the Houston Buffaloes of the Texa League, a Red Bird chattel. He had a final .286 average, had 199 total bases and 80 runs batted in.

Hai Walther, who started the season with Monroe, and was sold to Natchez early in the season, rapped the most doubles, 42. He had the distinction of playing 127 games, one more than the rest of his Indian mates. Reason: Monroe was a game ahead of Natchez when the deal was consummated.

Ouachita Getting Final Tune-Up For Season Opener With Jonesboro-Hodge

Lions Will Engage Tiger Eleven Here Friday Night

The Ouachita Lions open their 1952 grid season Friday night against the Jonesboro-Hodge Tigers. The Tigers won their season opener Friday night 39 to 2, against Haughton.

The Lions finished their third week of rough work and start smoothing out the rough spots this week in preparation for their Friday night clash at Brown Field.

The Lions start off the season with bad luck following them already. The doctor has three of Coach Jim Hodgins' regulars, Roddy Cannon and Billy Watson, off the hard work list with colds and has advised Will Sam Shatzer, a promising young fullback, not to play until further notice.

Coach Hodgins had his team scrimmaging both offensive and defensive last week with Frank Charles Greer rounding into good shape and the rest of the team improving steadily.

The Lions don't expect smooth sailing when Jonesboro-Hodge comes to Monroe with power and bag full of tricks coming out of the split-T and variations of the T. Ouachita also runs out of the split-T, but can shift into the single-wing to present another problem to the opposition.

Coach Hodgins is hesitant in naming his probable starting lineup because of the stiff competition his squad is putting forth, but it will probably be Ralph Bailey and John Harrell at ends, Paul Fleming and Rodney Cannon at tackles, Billy Watson and Delbert Wheeler or Jimmy Berry at guards, Matkins or Doyle Holstead at center, Jerry Sikes at quarterback, Greer or W. D. Perkins at fullback, Mobley at left half, and Goza at right half.

Tallulah, Natchitoches And Leesville Score Victories

JENA, La., Aug. 30. (Special)—Football fans of this area were treated to a fine exhibition of pre-season football last night with four games on the Jena football jamboree card that saw Tallulah, Natchitoches and Leesville emerge with wins while Sicily Island and Winnfield battled to a tie in the abbreviated games.

Leesville, showing plenty of power, beat LaSalle of Olla, 25 to 0; Sicily Island and Winnfield tied, 6 and 6; Natchitoches nosed out Lake Providence, 6 to 0; and Tallulah shaded Jena, 7 to 6.

Nickolas scored three of the Leesville touchdowns, and Colburn added one. Moss connected for one extra point for the Red Devils.

Enright, Sicily Island, and Farley, Winnfield, accounted for the lone touchdowns in their game. Tolar made the lone goal - crossing for Natchitoches.

Manchester counted the Jena touchdown against Tallulah, while Bradley's touchdown and an extra point by Cox gave the Trojans their needed margin.

Neville Tigers Open Grid Campaign With Bolton At Alexandria Friday

Leland Sims Again Captain Of Bengal Football Team

The Neville High School Tigers move into fast company when they tangle with the Bolton High School Bears at Alexandria next Friday night in the opener of their football season.

Leland Sims, named last year to the Associated Press' Louisiana all-state Class A team, has again been elected for his second season as captain of the Bengals. Alternate captain will be Tackle Fred Seiler.

Coach Bill Ruple has had his charges in two-a-day workouts here the past week after spending two weeks in a special training camp at Hot Springs, Ark.

The Tigers have concentrated on work to get in top condition while Coach Ruple has been grooming at least two boys for every position to build up reserve strength while at the same time filling gaps left in the squad from graduations.

Only Sims, a guard, End Ken Abington and Tackles Seiler and Bobby Shaffo are back in the line from last year's starting combination. Bill Stevens looms as the possible starter at end opposite Abington. Rodney Statham looks like the other choice at guard, while Tommy Boyles and Jay Adams are putting up a stiff competition as the new Tiger center.

Speedy Tommy Leos, with Jerry McWilliams and Jimmy Dennis, are returning to backfield assignments — Leos at right half, Dennis at left half and McWilliams at fullback. The quarterback job, so far, looks like a toss-up between Jack Gaines and Alton McCreedy, both squadmen last season.

Coach Ruple looks for a rougher engagement than usual with Bolton although the Bears have battled the Tigers almost on even terms the last three years. However, reports indicate Bolton is heavier and faster and promises keener competition in Class AA. Neville is comparatively lighter, averaging about 165 pounds, but hopes to develop speed and aggressiveness.

RAY MATCHED AGAINST LUND

Billed For Main Event Bout At Bastrop September 8

BASTROP, La., Aug. 30. (Special)—Norris Ray, sensational Bastrop middleweight, steps up the caliber of his competition in professional boxing circles when he meets Tony Lund of New Orleans here Monday night, September 8.

Bastrop's promoting brothers, Ray and Larche Campbell, today announced the signing of Ray and Burns for the main event on their next production.

"We have gone to considerable expense in search of a suitable opponent for Ray, and have matched him with Tony Lund, managed by Chick Burns, for our ten-round main event," the Campbell brothers said.

"Everyone wants to see just how good Ray really is. Therefore, we are matching him with this boy who is the pride of New Orleans fight fans. Burns told us over the phone that his boy could take anything Norris Ray could dish out, but he was wondering how Ray would fare when his boy started giving him a dose of his own medicine."

"We intend to find out, and if Ray gets past this one he'll be ready to make his bid with contenders in the higher brackets."

Ray, in his professional debut recently, scored a one-round knockout over Joe Sultan of Monroe. The supporting card for the Ray-Lund program will be announced later.

JUNIOR CHAMP

SOUTHWEST GRID POWERS GET SET

Wide Open Race Looms, But T. C. U. Is Again Favored

DALLAS, Aug. 30 (AP)—Another Southwest Conference football season, expected to follow the usual free-for-all pattern, opens Monday.

Four hundred and sixty-one young men will report to the seven conference camps. Just three weeks away will be opening games in one of the toughest intersectional schedules the circuit ever has arranged.

In the outpouring of eager young athletes will be 151 lettermen from last year's campaign in which Texas Christian having its ups and downs but more ups than downs, won the title.

At least five teams are bunched in the championship bracket with any one of them able to win the flag and occasion no surprise. The favorite is Texas Christian but not by any long margin.

Texas, Southern Methodist, Rice and Arkansas all are given an excellent chance of capturing the title trophy. Baylor is looked upon as a tough customer that could knock over a share of hopefuls, maybe all of them.

Texas A. and M., which lost almost everything and didn't do too well last year with a largely senior team, is relegated to the cellar in every book.

The largest field of candidates will be at Southern Methodist where 76 will report. Texas will draw 75, Texas Christian 71, Arkansas 66, Baylor 62, Texas A. and M. 56 and Rice 55.

All the teams will begin two-day practice.

Scott Defending Mat Crown Against Carr Challenge Here Tuesday Night

Phantom Goes Solo Against Barney, Roberts Tag Team

"Mighty" Scott, world's light heavyweight wrestling champion, will defend his title against the challenge of Charley Carr, Shreveport, in the main event at Gus Kallio's Arena here Tuesday night, but the night's curtain-raiser promises to furnish the mat fans with an exciting melee.

Supporting the Scott-Carr feature will be a semi tag scramble in which the Black Phantom, with low regard for referees in this section will work solo against the tag team of Bill Barney and Jack Roberts, a couple of huskies who have been handling Promoter Kallio's matches.

"Your referees are a bunch of sissies," the Phantom challenged Kallio as the result of being on the losing end of recent scraps here. "They like to stay on the good side of the fans making their decisions according to the way the ringtone wolves want them to."

A referee should have no ears—only good eyes, good judgment and honesty. If I could get them into the ring with me I'd teach them a few lessons."

Barney quickly accepted the challenge man-to-man, but, to give the card color and at the same time afford the Black Phantom another referee for his mat feats, Kallio later found Roberts willing and decided to let them operate as a tag team.

"I won't promise what I'll do," said Barney, "but I guarantee the Phantom will decide I'm the toughest assie he has ever had anything to do with."

The Phantom vs. Barney-Roberts affair will have a time limit of an hour and fifteen minutes with two falls to win.

The championship main event will have a 90-minute time limit, also two falls to win.

Carr was offered the title chance after his impressive victory over George Curtis here last week. Carr has wrestled many years throughout the nation and believes he has a good chance to wrest the crown from the turbulent Scott.

MOSLEMS PRAISE MECCA AIRLIFT

BEIRUT, Lebanon, Aug. 29 (AP)—Moslem prayers of gratitude rang through Lebanese mosques today for the United States airlift that has flown 3,763 stranded pilgrims to Mecca to worship at the birthplace of Mohammed.

With a flight from Beirut at dawn, big U. S. Air Force C54s carried the last of the pilgrims, from all over the Middle East, to the Saudi Arabian Red Sea port of Jidda.

From there, the white-robed, hatless pilgrims—some of them women—were able to travel the 40 miles to Islam's holiest city in time for the opening today of the great Id Al Adha festival they believe must be attended once in their lives to achieve salvation.

The American crews of the 14 Military Air Transport (MAT) planes, which came from their bases in Libya and Germany to provide the airlift, were forbidden to enter Mecca, hidden away in the barren desert mountains, because Moslems consider them infidels. With the exception of a small British party which disguised itself as Arabs a hundred years ago, no Western infidel has seen the strange old city in modern times.

The American magic carpet operation, requested by the Lebanese government when commercial airlines became swamped and the pilgrims were hopelessly piled up here at this Middle East crossroads, was seen as producing more Arab goodwill for the United States than any other act in recent times.

Intense anti-American feeling had grown up in the Middle East because of U. S. support of Israel, still technically at war with the Arab nations. But a Beirut newspaper commented today that, while the United States had given Israel material aid, it has given Arabs spiritual aid—"a far greater gift than was given Israel."

The mufti of Lebanon, Mohammed Alaya, gave an unprecedented order that prayers for Americans must be included in all mosque ceremonies during the pilgrimage feast.

Lebanese President Bechara El Khoury personally expressed official gratitude yesterday to U. S. Minister Harold B. Minor, who had been active in making special arrangements with the Saudi Arabian government. El Khoury also thanked Brig. Gen. Wentworth Goss, the airlift commander, and his deputy, Col. Arthur C. Rush. A thank-you letter also came from Premier Sami Solh.

The operation crews, who had worked 18 hours a day since the airlift started Monday, wearily packed up to return to their bases. In 75 flights, the planes had flown a total distance of 121,800 miles—nearly five times the distance around the earth.

The operation was to have ceased yesterday noon by orders of the Saudi Arabian government, which normally requires pilgrims to reach Mecca 48 hours before the great annual festival begins.

But a special 18-hour extension was granted to fly in 850 pilgrims still here after the deadline. American officials said every pilgrim holding a Saudi Arabian visa and a plane ticket had been moved out of Beirut. Workers began cleaning up the mosques, where most of the pilgrims had been housed.

As is the daily custom, Moslems in all the mosques throughout the world turned in prayer toward Mecca, where their pilgrim brothers were beginning the solemn pilgrimage ceremonies.

There, they will enter the fabulous Great Mosque, crusted with gold and silver and draped in silks. Then they will go to the Ka'ba, chief sanctuary of Islam, where they may kiss the black meteoric stone which they believe bears a footprint of Mohammed. When the ceremonies are over, they will shave their heads and don ordinary Arab dress once again to begin the trek homeward. Ever afterward, those who have been to Mecca will be called Hadji, an honorary title in Moslem lands.

According to unofficial estimates, 150,000 pilgrims are at Mecca this year, compared with 100,000 last year.

CARL FONTANA TO SHOW HERE

When the Woody Herman orchestra appears here Monday evening, Monroe music fans will hear Carl Fontana, whose brief career in music circles has already brought him national mention.

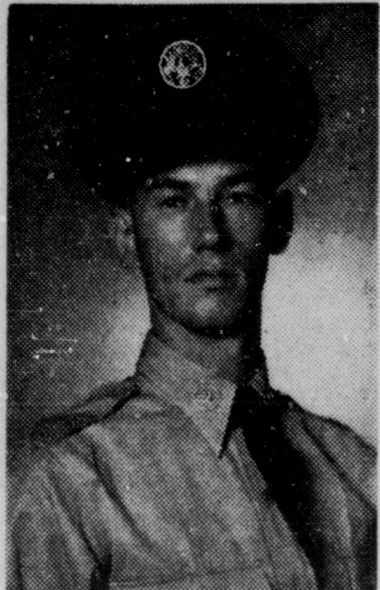

Fontana, a native of Monroe, joined the Herman band in November, 1951. Prior to that time, he was studying toward a Master of Arts degree at Louisiana State University, where he played solo trombone with the L. S. U. band. At that time, Herman needed a fill-in trombonist during an appearance in New Orleans. The scheduled stand-in performance developed into a permanent position with the orchestra.

Fontana is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Fontana, of 411 Gordon Ave. His father directed his own band for many years, where Fontana established himself in local musical circles. In addition, he played in the arduous Faulk grammar school and Neville High school bands. He also took great interest in athletic activities of both schools.

Among the critical praises of Fontana's work is an article by George T. Simon in Metronome Magazine, who wrote that Fontana's ability made him a "boy to watch."

The Herman concert is scheduled for 7 p. m. and 9 p. m. presentations, Monday, September 1, at Neville auditorium.

PUBLIC FORUM

No wonder there is so much turmoil and skepticism in the minds of so many people. I read with disillusionment the article in the Monroe Morning World of Sunday, August 24, 1952, by Charles E. McKenzie, a state committeeman.

Mr. McKenzie was not even present at the State Central Committee's meeting. Yet he assumes to leave the fine people of Ouachita Parish under the impression that he was present and participated in the meeting. No wonder each time he runs for public office, he gets fewer and fewer votes because it is obvious that more and more people have learned to know and understand Mr. McKenzie and his backhanded approach, in which he attempts to mislead the people by rank misrepresentation.

I have no quarrel with any person who wishes to support the Republican presidential nominee and the Republican platform. But, when a state committeeman, who is elected by the people as a Democrat and as a member of the Democratic state committee, openly endorses the Republican presidential nominee and the Republican platform, then he no longer represents the Democratic party, and the honorable course for Mr. McKenzie, or any other Democratic state committeeman with similar views, is to resign from the State Central Committee and not propose to be a Democrat.

I am not necessarily defending the Democratic platform but I am endeavoring to point out to the public that Mr. Charles E. McKenzie did not attend the meeting of the Democratic state central committee nor did he participate in the deliberations. He was not even in the state and attempt to lead the fine people of Ouachita Parish to believe that he took an active part in deliberations is more than this reader can accept in good grace. It is only right that the public know the facts.

Signed: A Citizen.

ORIENTATION PROGRAM SET

Neville Student Council Will Sponsor New Practice

The Neville High School student council will sponsor a seventh grade and transfer student orientation program Wednesday at 2 p. m., in the Neville High School auditorium. Mrs. Oberah Bove, student council sponsor, announced.

During the past week senior student advisors have written cards to this year's seventh grade class and transfer students that have registered, inviting them to the program.

The program will consist of the following: Welcome speeches by Delmas Jackson, president of the student body; Jo Ann Carso, general chairman of the senior advisors; and Paul J. Neal, principal of Neville. The groups will divide into homeroom groups, and then a senior boy and girl advisor will discuss the traditions at Neville, rules and regulations, and will guide a tour of the building. After the tour of the building, refreshments will be served by the student council.

On Thursday and Friday, student council representatives will be on hand in the Neville lobby to give information to incoming students, especially their homeroom assignments.

A committee, under the chairmanship of Ronnie Marrienneaux, has put up signs over each teacher's door giving the name of the teacher occupying the room.

The Neville school buses will run their routes on Wednesday for the benefit of the students attending the program. The bus drivers will begin their routes at 1:15 p. m., and will return the students to their homes about 4 p. m. The bus routes are listed in an article appearing elsewhere in this paper.

Senior advisors for seventh grade students are:

Hildred Adair, Nell Bridge, Eleanor Eikel, Ann Ludwick, Shirley McDonald, Marilyn Mussett, Pat Parnell, Minette Smith, Alice Mae Tarpley, Francis Dawson, George Fox, Jack Gaines, Ronnie Marrienneaux, Jimmy Patton, Fred Seller, Bobby Shafro, Ronnie Thompson, Norman Waddell.

Advisors for transfer students are:

Geney Wilson, Elizabeth Leigh, Ray Rhymes, and Ralph Troy.

Jimmy Fidler IN HOLLYWOOD

By Arthur Hunnicutt
Guest Columnist

HOLLYWOOD, August 30 - Because I come from the Ozarks people say I'm another Bob Burns. I wish they would quit it. It isn't fair to Bob and it isn't fair to me. He's a comedian; I'm on the dramatic side. Most of my roles have been straight, like the busted - up cowpoke in "The Lusty Men" and the old Indian scout in "The Big Sky."

If folks are hunting for a phrase to describe me I wish they'd just say I'm sort of a hillbilly Barrymore, or the Barrymore of the Ozarks. Leave it to Bob Burns to add the Ethel.

I don't know why people expect a feiler to be funny just because he comes from Arkansas, but they do. Whenever I tell anybody I was born in Gravelly, they right out in a big heehaw. "Gravelly?" they say. "Gravelly? Must be a pretty rough town, eh, Art?" Or, "Gravelly? Is that the place a guy winds up stony broke?" Boy, their funny remarks kill me.

Now if I was a comedian like Bob Burns I'd have some droll stories to tell them about Gravelly and my kinfolks there. Like how lazy the fishing is in like parts. Only city fellows go after fish with tackle. That's strenuous. Back home we wait for fish to visit us. After every river flood, fish remain in sink holes. So we fetch out our guns and sit on the back porch till a raccoon comes down from the woods for a fish.

When he passes the house with his fish, we just shoot him. One day we have fish, the next day roasted coon.

The kind of story people expect to hear about Arkansas usually concerns somebody's grandpaw. Bob Burns has a whole raft of them about his grandpaw, Uncle Fud and all them relations. I don't know a single story on my granddaddy. He keeps in touch, writes regularly, never much news. The other day I got a letter from him thanking me for a mule I had sent him.

"But I can't keep it, Art, so I am sending the mule back to you," he wrote. "The durned critter just won't get house-broke!"

No, the truth of the matter is that life in Gravelly is just about the same as life anywhere else, and the people there are like people everywhere. Only difference, maybe, is that folks back home are closer to one another, you might say. When I was a boy I knew every man, woman and child in the county. That was easy because there were only three clans to remember, the Hunnicuts, the Joneses and the Cavinews.

Nowadays, though, it would be harder. The cotton growing has given way to cattle raising and quite a few strangers have moved in. Names like King and John Nances Garner and others the folks around there don't know much about.

It's been a long time since I left Gravelly, but I try to get back for a visit every year or so. All joshing aside now, that rube stuff about barefoot relatives, moonshine likker, outhouses and the like sounds pretty corny, even in the backwoods. The folks have their radios, newspapers, automobiles, telephones, and electricity like everybody else in the country today. But it wasn't always so modern.

As a boy I can remember riding horseback behind my daddy to get to school. It was nine miles from our house and dad was the teacher. Learning only went to the eighth grade and some of them mountain boys were tough. Some of them brought guns and knives to class. Dad always carried a stout hickory stick. The schoolmaster had to have the same equipment as his pupils. A couple of the boys who were up for graduation were older than my father. He started teaching at 18.

I got into the entertainment business by playing the harmonica with my brother at pie suppers. We used to sing at those sociables, too. I sang tenor and my brother just sang. I'd even do a jig if I got a little corn likker in me.

My next step up the ladder occurred when I joined a medicine show. The old doc who ran it was the greatest showman I ever did see. Smart feller, too, a graduate from the Lansing Penitentiary up in Michigan. He'd been shot in the hip and had to use crutches. But a real fighter. He could lick anyone within crutch-reach and if they got beyond that he started shooting.

The doc was selling elixir with crystals. The elixir was well-water flavored with mint leaves. The crystals were epsom salts. Old doc fairly originated the testimonial idea of selling. He used to hit town a day early and pass around samples of the elixir to a few people. Then he'd invite them down to the show the next night to tell their neighbors about the medicine.

Them that could always come down and said a few words for old ooc. The only trouble was, through talking we had to fight our way out of town. I finally quit the show when the Pure Food and Drug Act started clamping down and reduced us to selling nothing but corn remedies.

Hal Boyle NOTEBOOK

NEW YORK - Girls, our success formula for today is simple:

"Stay in there and keep pitching those curves."

The symbol of this vibrant maxim is Marilyn Monroe, who has proved an ambitious girl doesn't have to come to the big city to get ahead. She can do it in her own home town.

At nine Marilyn earned five cents a month spending money setting tables in a Los Angeles orphan's home. At 24, in the nearby film studio where she now has to wait on nobody, she draws down $750 a week. In Hollywood, where she is rated as one of the most sultry discoveries since the late Jean Harlow, this naturally is considered personage.

"They keep saying that one of these days they'll tear up my contract and write me a better one," she said. "And one of these days I wish they would."

She arrived for our luncheon appointment in good time—well before dusk.

"They keep me so busy," she complained, "sorry I'm late." She turned her wide blue eyes on me, and I had an uneasy feeling they would melt and drip on the table. Then she sat down beside me—real close—and I had an uneasy feeling that maybe I'd melt.

"I was having my hair fixed in my hotel room, and all I had on was a towel," she said, and added carefully — "a small towel. Some reporters were on the other side of the door asking me questions. And such questions! They wanted to know if I knew how many stomachs a cow had, and they seemed real surprised when I gave them the right answer—four."

"Then they asked me if I knew what heat was? I told them sure—heat is something that is generated. Isn't that right?"

Marilyn, who recently was in a film called "Monkey Business," rather enjoys people who take her for a real life dumb blonde. She is dumb the same way Mae West is.

At the moment she is rather amazed by the public interest in her disclosure that she never wears brassieres, girdles or any other form of underclothing, and sleeps raw except for a nightly dab of perfume.

It's more comfortable not to wear underclothing, and I don't like to feel wrinkles," she said. "What's so unusual about that? You must know a lot of girls who do the same thing—and who put on perfume before going to sleep."

(Editor's Note: If Boyle does, he never mentioned it before.)

Miss Monroe feels most American women should follow her example and emancipate themselves from bras, corsets and girdles.

"But, first, some of them ought

UNITED STATES POLL

PRINCETON, N. J., Aug. 30 - Results of the second nationwide "trial heat" of voter preference by Princeton Research Service's United States Poll show Dwight D. Eisenhower is now running ahead of Adlai Stevenson.

Princeton Research Service's United States Poll staff reporters asked a representative cross-section of the nation's voters: "Right now, which of the two candidates—

GULF SOUTH IS MOVIE THEME

Superior Industrial Advantages Displayed By United Gas Pictures

Shelby Cage, district manager of United Gas in Monroe, was the speaker at the Civitan Club Thursday night in the LaCasa tearoom. He gave a short talk, introduced by Civitan Paul Stewart, in which he told of the tremendous industrial possibilities of what has been termed the Gulf South, which comprises the states of Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas.

The United Gas has in operation a headquarters office in Shreveport from which publicity is dispensed through motion pictures and advertising in widely circulated publications such as Wall Street Journal, Time, and News Week, Mr. Cage explained.

He proceeded to show an exceptionally illustrative motion picture in full colors 16 mm which was completed after nearly a year's efforts. The narration was by Westbrook Van Voorhis, whose voice is heard over "March of Time." Scenes were shown along the gulf in the five states named.

The picture told of growth in industry in the states concerned, and captures industry in the busy cities in the states in expanded development.

Agricultural advancement was not overlooked.

The United Gas in 1951 is completing this fall 1,700 miles of natural gas pipeline; is erecting 12 new dehydrating plants, has added 64,000 horsepower to compressor stations and has installed distribution facilities to serve many thousand additional United customers.

It was stated by Mr. Cage that a number of big industries have moved to the Gulf South from the north due to the superior conditions that exist in the far south and which are unmatched in the north.

A short business meeting was held. In the absence of the president, J. E. Peters, vice-president acted in his place.

Besides Mr. Cage, the club had as guests, Farrell W. Adams, engineer for United Gas, who operated the motion picture machine, and Charlie Ferguson, prospective member, who was introduced by Civitan Bill Parks.

CONFERENCE ON WORK IS HELD

A meeting of group, subject and grade leaders held Thursday, at the Ouachita parish work conference was presided over by Mrs. Helen LeFevre, president of the group.

Roll call was taken by Sec. Bobby Wilson.

Mrs. LeFevre stressed the importance of each leader's responsibility and need for doing his part to make the conference a success. Materials were distributed to the leaders and placed in each room where sessions are contemplated.

The main social event this year for those attending the conference is a barbecue at the Baptist Children's Home picnic grounds. Each participant is urged to attend.

Attending this meeting were: Mrs. Elizabeth Bonnette, Mrs. Theresa Lomax, Mrs. J. O. Miller, Mrs. La Nette Fisher, Mrs. U. N. Bradford, Bobby Wilson, Mrs. Jake Humphries, Mrs. LeVon Oglesbee, Mrs. Starlene Hill, Miss Sallie Humble, Miss Carrie Dee Drew, Miss Mary Annie Wall, Mrs. Sarah Hollingsworth, Mrs. Colene Mann, Miss Marguerite Norris, Mrs. Helen LeFevre, Mrs. Chrissie Williams, supervisor.

Stevenson, the Democrat, or Eisenhower, the Republican — do you personally favor for president?" The result was:

Nationwide

Eisenhower, 47.7 per cent.
Stevenson, 41.9 per cent.
Undecided, 9.4 per cent.

When the "undecided" voters on this question were then asked which way they "leaned" now, the figures became:

Nationwide

Eisenhower, 52.5 per cent.
Stevenson, 45.5 per cent.
Undecided, 2.0 per cent.

A comparison of today's findings with those reported by the United States Poll on August 17 shows that Eisenhower has registered a 1.5 per cent gain. The August 17 United States Poll results on the same question showed: Eisenhower, 51 per cent; Stevenson, 47 per cent; Undecided, 2 per cent.

The split in sentiment among the various population groups in the nation has some interesting and significant sidelights. First, today's survey indicates Eisenhower now has more support among rank and file Independents throughout the nation than does Stevenson. Here's how those without party affiliation indicated their choices:

Independent Voters Only, Nationwide

Eisenhower, 53.5 per cent.
Stevenson, 40.8 per cent.
Undecided, 5.7 per cent.

Second, younger voters — those under 45 years of age — are almost evenly divided between the two major presidential candidates. (Over the last five years, Princeton Research Service studies have indicated that most younger voters lean toward the Democratic party.) Here are the results of the poll by age groups:

21-29 Years, Nationwide
Eisenhower, 47.6 per cent.
Stevenson, 50.2 per cent.
Undecided, 2.2 per cent.

30-44 Years, Nationwide
Eisenhower, 49.4 per cent.
Stevenson, 48.8 per cent.
Undecided, 1.8 per cent.

45 Years & Over, Nationwide
Eisenhower, 57.5 per cent.
Stevenson, 40.6 per cent.
Undecided, 1.9 per cent.

Today's poll indicates Eisenhower has not reduced the Democrats' lead in three important groups of voters, namely, manual workers; labor union members; and big city voters. Following are today's poll results in the three groups:

Manual Workers, Nationwide
Eisenhower, 46 per cent.
Stevenson, 52 per cent.
Undecided, 2 per cent.

50 per cent of the nation's potential voters.

Labor Union Members, Nationwide
Eisenhower, 43 per cent.
Stevenson, 56 per cent.
Undecided, 1 per cent.

Cities 100,000 And Over, Nationwide
Eisenhower, 45 per cent.
Stevenson, 54 per cent.
Undecided, 1 per cent.

It must be understood that today's poll findings reflect only current opinion and that much can happen during the next 65 days to change people's minds.

Princeton Research Service's United States Poll will continue to follow shifts in voter preference, reporting on election events and showing changes as they occur right up to Election Day.

(Copyright, 1952, by Princeton Research Service; distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

A new United States Poll report will appear in The Monroe Morning World on Wednesday.

CARTER DRILLS 19 WILDCATS

Company Also Reports 50 Per Cent Increase In Seismograph Work

Nineteen wildcat wells now are being drilled by The Carter Oil Company which today reported a 50 per cent increase in seismograph work during the first half of 1952.

In a mid-year report to employees the company said crude runs at Carter's Billings refinery are at an all-time high, gasoline sales are 16 per cent greater, but first-half crude oil production declined 4 per cent.

The greatly expanded search for crude has been the outstanding feature of Carter operations the first six months, President John W. Brice said in a letter to employees which accompanied the report. He added "the company is devoting more time and is spending more money on exploration work than at any time in its history."

Carter, a crude producer continuously for 59 years and the oldest producing subsidiary of Standard Oil Company (New Jersey), will show lower earnings in 1952 because of the increased program and higher costs in face of frozen price for crude oil and products, Brice indicated. Wages of all company personnel were increased approximately 4.4 per cent during the six months period.

The company completed 115 wells over all in the half year period and four of the wildcats were oil or gas discoveries, the report disclosed. Carter's net average production was 56,000 barrels daily, compared to 58,500 in 1951. Six secondary recovery projects were inaugurated or expanded. A new polymerization unit, to be built at the Billings refinery, will increase high octane gasoline output by about 8 per cent. The company operates more than 650 retail marketing outlets. The report said research work at the company's laboratory in Tulsa had been expanded and the staff enlarged.

In a general discussion of taxation, the report stated the "welfare of the nation and the welfare of government expenditures must be reduced to provide easing of the tax burden on industry."

"Data from the U. S. Department of Commerce covering all companies reporting income taxes to the treasury department show," the report declared, "that out of every dollar of oil and gas producers' sales, federal and state income and profits taxes amounted to 3.71 cents compared to 4.19 cents for all other industries."

"Actually, the oil industry pays the biggest tax bill of any industry — approximately 7 per cent of all taxes paid."

Copies of the mid-year report to employees are being sent all Carter personnel in 25 states.

Husband Kills Wife To Keep Her From Asylum

VIROQUA, Wis., Aug. 29 (AP) — Carl Herried, 75-year-old salesman who admits he entered a hospital and shot his wife to death to keep her from a mental institution, must stand trial in Circuit Court for first degree murder.

Herried, who told authorities he shot his wife Dolly, 68, at her request, was arraigned today and held without bond for trial. He waived preliminary examination but made no statement in court.

However, Vernon County District Attorney Wayne Schlitz said Herried signed a statement earlier in the day admitting he entered the Vernon County Memorial Hospital Thursday and shot his wife while a mute paralytic in the same room looked on.

Schlitz quoted Herried as saying he attempted to shoot himself after the killing but was unsuccessful because the revolver would not fire again.

Mrs. James A. Daniel and Mrs. Gertie Mitchell complimented Miss Billie Jean Wilson at a miscellaneous shower late in last week in the Daniel home on Riverfront.

The bride-elect wore a becoming model from her trousseau, a navy faille skirt with beige nylon blouse with accessories to harmonize. In pleasing harmony was the corsage of hibiscus presented by the hostesses.

The bridal games introduced were clever, as well as humorous, with awards received by the successful ones.

The lovely gifts included items of a miscellaneous nature such as to be treasured by any young bride.

Gifts presented were beautifully wrapped and included items which the young bride will cherish.

Of interest to friends in the city of Monroe is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Hazel Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Kenneth Murphy of Arcadia and Hines Earnest Rogers, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Rogers of Mansfield. The lovely wedding was performed Sunday at four o'clock in the afternoon in the Highland Baptist Church in Shreveport.

Rev. Scott L. Tatum heard the wedding vows before a background of palms, white gladioli and asters, with a soft glow from the cathedral tapers completing the wedding scene.

Frank Merrett of Gibsland at the organ rendered a program of pre-nuptial music which included "At Dawning," "Liebertraum," "My Wonderful One," "Always," "I Love You Truly" and "I Love Thee." Strains of an Irish Medley including "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and "My Wild Irish Rose" were heard while the candles were being lighted by Ollius Guess and Lloyd Beeth. The soloist, Billy Hulbun, rendered "Oh, Promise Me" and "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Morris Murphy of Arcadia, wore a gown of white Swiss imported organdie with fitted bodice and deep shawl collar of Swiss embroidery forming a portrait neckline. The full organdie skirts with panels of the embroidery cascading down the front were worn over hoops and ended in a chapel train. She wore embroidered mitts, fastened with tiny self covered buttons, ending in points over her hands and her tiered veil of illusion fell from a coronet of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a shower arrangement of stephanotis tied with white satin ribbons.

Mrs. Hill Stancil attended her sister as matron of honor. She was gowned in a coral nylon tulle which featured a satin bodice and shawl collar of tulle, forming a portrait neckline and full skirt worn over hoops. She carried a basket of white Marconi daisies tied with white satin ribbon. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Charles E. Hewitt of Mansfield, sister of the groom and Mrs. Morris Murphy of Arcadia. Their dresses were identical except in nymph green. They carried baskets of white Marconi daisies tied with wide satin ribbon which matched their dresses. Little Miss Sally Hewitt, niece of the groom and Miss Marcia Murphy, niece of the bride, were the junior attendants. Their dresses, identical in color with their mothers, were fashioned with satin bodices and wide ruffles at the neckline. Their full skirts were also worn over hoops and they carried tiny baskets of white daisies with green satin ribbon.

Lieutenant Dan Stokes of Norman, Okla. attended the groom as best man and the ushers were Bob Murphy, brother of the bride, and Jack Brewer, Ollius Guess and Lloyd Booth.

Mrs. Rogers also chose a navy sheer. Her hat was of powder blue sprinkled with rhinestones and she wore taupe colored gloves and a corsage of yellow vanda orchids.

Average Earnings Per

The figures show that higher incomes and a better standard of living prevail locally. Monroe families recorded net earnings in 1951, after deduction for all taxes, of $62,894,000. This was a gain over the $55,170,000 net income of the previous year.

Divided by the 12,200 families in the city, it represented earnings of $5,155 per family, which was greater than the $4,929 earned per family, on the average, throughout the nation and than the $4,064 per family in the west south central states. This compares favorably also with the previous year, when earnings per family, locally, were $4,522. Louisiana families recorded earnings of $3,861.

The figures, it is pointed out, are arithmetical averages, obtained by dividing total income by total number of families.

The better earnings locally led to bigger spending. Monroe stores registered a sales volume in the year of $70,885,000, which was well over the amount expected for a city of the size. On the basis of population, the retail business locally should have been only .0258 per cent of the national. Actually, however, local merchants accounted for .0468 per cent.

This sales total represented a gain over 1950, when the retail business amounted to $68,856,000.

The fact that total sales are greater than income indicates that a great deal of purchasing is done in Monroe by residents of surrounding communities.

A measure of the purchasing ability of each city and county, as compared with the nation, is given in the survey by a "quality of market" index. This takes into consideration income, sales, population and other factors. For Mon-

The Rev. C. Roger Johnson, pastor of the Central Baptist church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bridal couple exchanged their vows of the impressive service before an arch of fern mingled throughout with white blossoms. Two white floor baskets, filled with a graceful arrangement of pink roses, banked each side of the altar, each arrangement being separated by large candelabra bearing lighted white tapers. Large white satin bows served as markers for the family pews.

Prior to the ceremony, Miss Elaine Lolley of West Monroe rendered several selections including "At Dawning" and "I Love You Truly"; and during the ceremony "Claire de Lune". She accompanied Mrs. E. A. Hoodemaker of Monroe who sang "Because" and "Bless This House". As the benediction Mrs. Hoodemaker sang "The Lord's Prayer". The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recession.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were her attendants Miss Lee Odis Coody of Oak Grove; Miss Catherine Coody of Hamburg, Ark.; Mrs. James Holtzclaw of West Monroe, a sister of the bride; Miss Yvonne Emory, maid of honor, and also a sister of the bride, was last of the attendants to enter the church.

The bridesmaids were identically gowned in light ballerina dresses fashioned in shades of blue over satin forming bouffant skirts. Their bouquets were crescent arrangement of pink rose buds and they wore matching head pieces using the pink rose buds. They wore short blue nylon mitts. The maid of honor wore an exact duplicate of the bridesmaids.

To the strains of "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin the bride entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. Clarence Lamar Emory; and was a vision of loveliness as she was presented to her groom. Her ballerina length dress of white embroidered organza over tulle was fashioned with an illusion yoke. Her fingertip veil of nylon tulle fell in tiers from a Juliet cap of embroidered lace with sequins. Her bouquet of tuberose centered with an orchid on a white ribbon, were touched with tulle and tied with satin shower ribbons. As her only ornament the bride wore a string of pearls given her as a wedding gift by the groom.

Reception Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the educational building of the church. Guests were greeted by Mrs. Bruce Brooks a sister of the bride. Mrs. Brooks, lovely in a white lace afternoon dress, received the guests, assisted by Mrs. C. Roger Johnson who wore a smartly fashioned dress of black and white silk.

Miss Patricia McDonald presided at the guest book. Completing the receiving line were the bridal couple and feminine members of the wedding party.

The Home Shift
BY MILDRED SWIFT

It's a sad sight to drive around the parish and see the trees and shrubs that have died because of the drouth. We have few freezes like the one in February 31, and very few drouths as the one of summer of 52, but it behooves us gardeners with limited finances to look around for those plants that have come through both.

Vera Brown says large branches from her pecan trees are breaking for no visible cause. We know it is the drouth and that the same thing is happening all over north Louisiana. There's just nothing we can do about it. February fertilization helps give the tree more strength, but the Browns have fertilized every year.

In the picture above Mrs. Walter Knapp, 3811 Spurgeon Drive is picking ripe olives from the tree in her side yard. Five years ago when the Knapps moved to Monroe they brought this tree, (about two feet tall at that time) from Marengo county Ala. It has grown rapidly. The freeze did no damage and it's gone through the drouth without any trouble. The leaves are long and pointed and very dark green. It's a tropical looking plant and with the yellow partment doesn't have any directions because the fruit has never been grown here before. The daughter, Pat, has a friend in California. His mother sent a recipe so I'm looking forward to tasting some home made preserved olives.

Here are the directions for getting to the Knapp residence. Go out DeSiard street until you get to Market street, which is in front of Northeast Louisiana State College, turn right. The house is the last one at the end of the first block. It's a tan stucco.

A Summer House Dropped by the William Haynes house 200 Slack West Monroe to see their new summer house I've heard so much about. Erlene was quite modest, saying she and Billy took no credit because they had all the work done. They did the planning though and the room is so cool, comfortable, and spacious. There was an ice cream freezer (crank type) sitting in the corner. Erlene says a favorite family recreation is making a freezer of ice cream. Can't you remember when you were a child how you looked forward to those Sundays when everybody went out under the shade of the tree and helped with the turning of the freezer? Then the lid was removed, the dasher taken out (everybody wanted this), and the cream packed down. Those were agonizing hours waiting until the custard was hard enough to eat. Well, I got off the subject a little, but don't forget to see the summer and red olives is very beautiful. It loses its leaves in the winter. I hope there will be olives left by this afternoon so you can see them. The tree is beautiful without the fruit though. NEWS FROM THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

The summer months have been busy ones for the young patrons of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. More than 1,000 of them have taken part in the American Heritage Reading Club sponsored by the library. This reading project ended yesterday and we do not know exactly how many children finished their reading, but we know that it was somewhere around 500.

Next Saturday, September 6 is the big day for the fortunate ones who have read as many as fifteen books from the Monroe, West Monroe, or Bookmobile branches of the library. They will be entertained at a party at the Monroe branch on that day, September 6, at 2:00. If you have read fifteen books and are entitled to come to the party.

Bookmobile patrons have been given their little cards bearing a figure of a colonial man or lady and stamped with a liberty bell, confederate flag and American flag. These cards will serve as tickets of admission to the party. Children who read their books at the Monroe or West Monroe branches are urged to go there before Saturday and get their cards, so they will have them the day of the party.

The party is to be held in the back yard of the library. Ice cream will be given all children as a donation of the Purity Ice Cream Co. Other refreshments will be donated by the Ouachita National Bank, F. Strauss and Son, and the Ouachita Candy Company.

The main entertainment of the afternoon will be several movies, which are to be shown at the auditorium of the Central Grammar School. All children are to meet at the library at 2:00 and then go in a body to the grammar school, which is just in the next block.

After the showing of the movies, prizes will be awarded to the children who did the best reading, that is, read the books which best interpreted the American heritage to them. These prizes will be books donated by the children's book shop.

As you can see this party is made possible, only through the co-operation of various public spirited groups and individuals.

Miss Ann Grambling Is Wed To F.W. Shipley In Ruston

Candlelight Ceremony One Of The Loveliest

A candlelight ceremony in the First Presbyterian church of Ruston was the scene of one of the season's loveliest weddings which united in marriage Miss Ann Grambling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Grambling, Jr., of Ruston, and F. W. Shipley, of Memphis, Tenn., son of Mrs. J. B. Shipley and the late Mr. Shipley of Canton, Miss., on August 16 at seven - thirty o'clock in the evening.

Beauty and simplicity characterized the impressive double - ring ceremony which was read by Dr. Charles McCain of Canton before a gathering of relatives and close friends.

The vows were exchanged before the altar which was decorated with floor baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums against a background of greenery and cathedral candelabra supporting tall white tapers.

As the guests were being seated by the ushers Miss Frances Monroe rendered a musical program consisting of the bride's favorite selections including: "Aire" and "Arioso" by Bach, and "Ave Maria" by Gounod.

During the ceremony soft strains of "Liebestraum" by Liszt were heard and the traditional wedding marches were used.

Lee B. Shipley of Canton, Miss., served his brother as best man, and Jack B. Shipley of Tulsa, Okla., and Robert Jimerson of Ruston were ushers.

Preceding the bride to the altar was her sister, the maid - of - honor and only attendant, Miss Freda Grambling. She was gown in a ballerina length powder blue nylon tulle dress with matching shoes and short mitts. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and tuberoses tied with pink maline and ribbons.

Entering the church with her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride was lovely in a ballerina length gown of white nylon tulle and Chantilly lace. The lace bodice with portrait neckline and the bouffant skirt of her gown, fashioned of white tulle and lace were over layers of net and taffeta. The veil of bridal illusion fell from a Juliet cap and was edged with lace. She carried a bouquet of white fleur de meur and lilies of the valley inter-persed with puffs of net and lace.

Immediately following the ceremony, the reception was held in the home of the bride's parents on Spencer street. Arrangements of gladioli and white caladiums were placed at vantage points. The bridal motif was carried out in the reception room and in the adjoining room where the many gifts received by the young couple were displayed.

The guests were greeted by the mothers of the bride and groom and presented to the bridal party. Presiding at the bride's book was Miss Ann Barker of Bradley, Ark. The guests were invited to partake of the bride's cake which was served by Mrs. Franklin Heber of Winston-Salem, N. C.

The refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth and had at one end the punch bowl, which was presided over by Mrs. Jack Shipley. Centering the table was the bride's bouquet overlooked by a miniature bride and groom, which is traditionally present at weddings in the groom's family.

For traveling the bride chose an early fall brown suit. She wore brown accessories and a corsage of fleur de meur from her bouquet.

Mrs. Shipley attended Louisiana Polytechnic Institute and is a member of Sigma Kappa sorority. The bridegroom is a graduate engineer of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, a member of A. I. E. E., and is associated with the Texas Gas company.

After a short wedding trip, the young couple will make their home in Memphis, Tenn.

Out of - town guests attending the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. George Covington, Mr. Herman Goodman, and Mrs. W. A. Kirklin of Canton, Miss.; Miss Mary Beth Chandler Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Barham, and Mr. Harry Goodman of Shreveport, Mr. Joe Stenac and Miss Ann Logan of Natchitoches, Mr. Harold Kennedy of Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Barham and Mr. Emmett M. Barham of Oak Ridge, La., Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nicholson, Jr., and Mrs. Ed Nicholson, and Miss Dorsey Nicholson of Jackson, Miss.

Rehearsal Miss Ann Grambling and Bill Shipley were guests of honor when they were entertained at a supper party at Phil's on Friday following the rehearsal for their wedding. The hosts and hostesses for the gala occasion were the four grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Barham of Oak Ridge, La., and Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Grambling Sr., of Ruston.

Centering the T - shaped table was a beautiful bowl of white shasta daisies and yellow summer dahlias. Along the tables were graceful tendrils of ivy interspersed with small bouquets of daisies and dahlias.

Cards bearing silver bells marked the places of the guests.

A delectable supper was served the group, during which moving pictures were made. Also at this time, Miss Grambling and Mr. Shipley presented gifts to their attendants.

Those enjoying the party with the young couple were: Mrs. J. B. Shipley, Lee B. Shipley, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Grambling, Jr., Miss Frances Monroe, Mrs. Franklin Heber, Mr. Herman Goodman, Miss Freda Grambling, Mr. Robert Jimerson, and the hosts and hostesses.

But Brother—How He Bought!

When one of the Comrades who had been enjoying America was called back home behind the iron curtain recently, he frantically protested when the news photographers at the ship aimed their cameras. No wonder!

He had a dozen trunks, suitcases and crates bulging with things most Americans take for granted—U.S. canned goods, a television set, several radios, an automatic toaster, powder soaps, blankets, sheets, the latest electric razors—plus a lot of other things including nylons, that Russian Commissars are probably planning to "invent" next year!

Undoubtedly, when in Moscow, he explained that only "Capitalists" enjoyed these things in America.

You can be sure he didn't say that in the U.S.A. there are some 150,000,000 "capitalists" with access to thousands of brands of these good things—or that most Americans already possess many of them!

And that the only Dictator in America is the consumer, whose free choice of brands determines whether a product sells or disappears.

MERCHANTS BARBECUE HELD AT HERBERT FINK'S HIDEAWAY

Thursday night over 200 members, their families friends and employees, of the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce gathered at Herbert Fink's Hideaway.

It would be easier to name the merchants who were not present than those who were. The congenial feeling that prevailed made you realize why Monroe is the good city that it is.

At supper time the tables were laden with bowls of slaw and pots of beans and more and more beautiful steaks and ribs than this writer had ever seen.

Delta Beta Sigma Has Parties

Eighteen members from the D. B. S. Winnfield Chapter will be special guests of the Tau Chapter of Delta Beta Sigma on September 3rd, for an Installation Party, Confederate ball, and a breakfast following the ball.

Rushers will be entertained with a swimming party in the Stovall's pool to start the events off on September 2nd. The Installation Party will be held the next day in the home of the President of Tau Chapter, Miss Martha Hatchell. A Confederate Ball will follow immediately from nine till one at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club. Ben Burton and his orchestra will furnish the music. A Breakfast Party will be held afterwards in the home of Miss Ann Flynn.

The ceremony to salute the chief executive will be held between halves of the football game with the University of Texas. The LSU Tiger band, directed by L. Bruce Jones, will open the ceremonies with a fanfare and march for the governor and his party, which will include Gov. and Mrs. Kennon and Gen. Ray Fleming, and an honor guard of members of Scabbard and Blade, honorary military organization at the University.

The governor will be met by members of the alumni council representing the various colleges of the University and the Congressional districts. Representative from the 5th district is Mike John, Monroe. A 19-gun salute is to be fired after which Dr. Mickal will extend official greetings from the Alumni Federation to the governor, who is himself an alumnus of LSU.

Ralph Errolle, director of the opera department at LSU, will then sing the official state song, "Louisiana, My Home Sweet Home," accompanied by the Tiger Band.

University cheer leaders will lead the crowd in a cheer for Gov. Kennon.

The climax of the ceremony, Dr. Mickal said, will be a fireworks display. "We want to keep its actual form a surprise," he said, "but I assure you it will be something to see."

COL. WOOLFLEY
GUARD TEACHER

Has 3 Year Service Term In U. S. Military Mission In Turkey

Colonel Francis A. Woolfley, one of Louisiana's most outstanding military figures, has just returned from three years of service with the U. S. military mission in Turkey to become the senior regular army instructor for the Louisiana National Guard.

Back in his office in the adjutant general's office at Jackson barracks, which he left in January of 1949 for his overseas assignment, Col. Woolfley today had some highly complimentary things to say about the Turks.

As chief of staff of the U. S. Army group in Turkey the colonel visited every section of Turkey to observe the Turkish soldiers in the field and even accompanied a shipload of Turkish soldiers to Korea and spent considerable time with them on the Korean battle front.

"The Turkish soldier is a rugged soldier — a really first class fighting man — and the Turks have got by far the best army in the middle east," Col. Woolfley commented.

He added that dollar for dollar the money we've spent on military aid to the Turks has produced more and better results than in any other part of the globe.

"There are no Communists in Turkey and the Turks can be counted on to fight the Russians to the finish with or without outside aid in event they should be attacked by the Reds," Woolfley concluded.

Col. Woolfley resided in Ankara with Mrs. Woolfley during his tour of duty while his younger son, Du-four Woolfley, became a student at Robert College in Istanbul for a year and at the American University in Beirut, Lebanon, for two years.

Col. Woolfley is temporarily stopping with his daughter, Mrs. Allen H. Johnson, Jr.

The colonel, a native of New Orleans, began his military career as a guardsman when he joined Company K of the First Louisiana Infantry at Lake Charles back in 1913.

Col. Woolfley, who has commanded every infantry unit from squad to division, served as commandant of cadets and professor of military science and tactics at Louisiana State University from 1921 to 1925. He served as infantry instructor for the Louisiana National Guard from 1929 to 1933 and then as senior army instructor for the Louisiana Guard from 1946 to 1949.

In World War I he commanded a rifle company of the seventh infantry division and won the Silver Star Medal for gallantry in action in the Alsace - Lorraine sector and in the Meuse - Argonne offensive.

At the outset of World War II he organized and commanded the 377th infantry regiment, 95th division, and then upon promotion to brigadier general served as assistant commander of the 76th infantry division.

In this capacity he served in England, France, Belgium, Luxembourg, and Germany, participating in the Ardennes, Rhine - land and Central Europe campaigns.

He won many citations for courage and leadership and was awarded an Oak Leaf Cluster for his World War I Silver Star for gallantry in action and was twice awarded the Bronze Star Medal for valor.

RED JOB PROBLEM

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Reds have drafted some of their biggest names for a Labor Employment Committee to deal with the growing unemployment problem. The Communists say that 3 million of China's 450 million population are out of work. The figure may be higher.

The Reds say that unemployment is a heritage of the Chinese Nationalist regime or is caused by Communist production efficiency, the liberation of millions of the land and lack of arable land. Red China is seeking to solve the problem by restrictions on the dismissal of workers, wage changes, shorter hours (to eight and 10 hours daily and government land reclamation, reforestation, water conservation projects and railroad and road building.

It is estimated that less than 20 per cent of American Negroes are of pure African descent.

'MERRY WIDOW' FILM AT TEM

Picture Described As Vibrant And Opulent Technicolor Production

Franz Lehár's famous musical romance, "The Merry Widow," will start at the Tem Theater Thursday. It is a vibrant and opulent Technicolor production, starring Lana Turner and the romantic new film personality, Fernando Lamas. Its haunting songs, sumptuous settings and costumes, its brilliant staging of the memorable "Merry Widow Waltz" and other lavish production numbers and, last but not least, the impassioned love affair which permeates the story, make for a motion picture which not only provides effective escapism but is a delight to eye and ear.

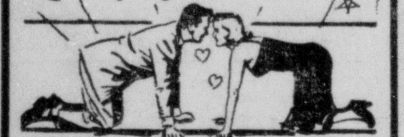

This is the tale of the young and beautiful Crystal Radek (Lana Turner), American widow of a multi-millionaire native of the mythical kingdom of Marshovia. Crystal has been invited to Marshovia ostensibly to dedicate a statue to her late husband, but actually to save the country from bankruptcy through a hoped-for marriage to the dashing Count Danilo (Fernando Lamas). The Count is loath to carry out his part in this scheme, particularly when he mistakes Crystal's dour secretary, Kitty, for the wealthy widow, but patriotic pressure forces him to press an ardent if hypocritical suit. Crystal, discovering Danilo's mercenary motive, resolves to teach him a lesson. She leaves for Paris and, when she is pursued by Danilo, poses as an impoverished American chorus girl. It is at a brilliant scene at the famous Maxim's that the Count declares his passion for the "chorus girl" and then finds himself in the tragic predicament of having to renounce her for the rich girl whom he does not love. Since this is a light-hearted musical drama, its predicaments are unfolded with a tongue-in-cheek seriousness and are brought to a satisfactory conclusion amid laughs, kisses, song and dance.

The role of the "Merry Widow" is a made-to-order one for the voluptuous Lana Turner. Dressed to the hilt in an arresting array of costumes (among them a black hourglass corset with a chiffon train!), Miss Turner is not only stunning looking in Technicolor hues but brings a vibrant warmth to her love scenes and an engaging humor to the episodes in which she hoodwinks her mercenary admirer. Fernando Lamas is equally effective in the role of the amorous Danilo. He has the handsome looks and dashing personality of the late John Gilbert, who appeared in a silent version of "The Merry Widow," and he has in addition a brilliant singing voice. It is to Lamas that the brunt of the songs in the beautiful Franz Lehár score falls. He sings "Girls, Girls, Girls," "Vilja," "Maxim's" and "Night," with Miss Turner joining him in the sequence in which they perform the haunting waltz, one of the picture's outstanding production numbers.

The amusing Una Merkel adds to the gaiety in the role of the sardonic secretary, Kitty, and others who lend admirable support.

'SON OF PALEFACE' WILD

There's trouble and fun afoot as Bob Hope checks with Roy Rogers in this scene from Bob's latest Technicolor comedy, "Son of Paleface." Co-starred with Bob and Roy is glamorous Jane Russell. Roy's wonder horse Trigger is also seen in this Paramount laugh hit which opens today at the Paramount Theatre.

HOPE WILD IN 'PALEFACE SON'

Hilarious New Chapter In History Of Old West Is Present

Bob Hope and Jane Russell, who wrote a hilarious new chapter in the history of the Old West with their co-starring stint in "The Paleface," will be off on another and reportedly funnier adventure when "Son of Paleface," a Paramount picture in Technicolor, opens a weeks run at the Paramount today.

With cowboy star Roy Rogers and his horse Trigger figuring prominently in the fun, this latest Hope comedy explains the howling consequences when the Paleface's Harvard-trained son comes West to try and follow in his pioneering pappy's footsteps.

A bouncy new score by Academy Award-winners Jay Livingston and Ray Evans, the "Buttons and Bows" boys, with additional tunes by Jack Brooks, provides the musical fare for Bob, Jane and Roy. The songs include the Hit Parade headliner, "Am I In Love," "Winged Tonight" and "California Rose." One of the musical highlights is a torrid rendition of a lively ditty by the statuesque Miss Russell, dressed in the abbreviated tocs of a frontier dance hall darling.

Stocked with gags and comedy situations galore, "Son of Paleface" traces Bob's escapades in the border country at the turn of the century. Arriving in the rootin'-tootin' town of Sawback Pass aboard a wheezing flivver, Bob finds a reception committee of quick-shooting hoppers who want him to square up his pappy's backlog of debts. Also after him is Jane, a lady outlaw who thinks Bob is loaded down with an inherited hoard of loot.

The riotous romance that follows and Bob's frantic attempts to get his hands on some ready cash provide the outlines of the hilariously improbable doings. When Roy Rogers, as a government agent tracking down the girl desperado, gets into the act, the comedy takes a new turn. Then some scout scalp-hunting redskins take after Bob to avenge the deeds of his Indian-fighting father, as the laughter roars into high gear. The chase sequence in the furiously funny finale, with Bob and Jane making their getaway in a trick gas buggy, has been hailed by advance audiences as a classic.

Bob Thomas IN MOVIELAND

HOLLYWOOD (U)—A lot of Hollywood people thought Frederick Brisson was a little touched in the head "when he gave a future movie a try-out on television last year. But the producer now says the experiment was a success. Brisson and his wife, Rosalind Russell, had a film project called "Never Wave at a Wac." First of all, they put the story on TV in a live broadcast for the playhouse of stars. Now they are engaged in making the film version for theaters.

"The TV tryout proved of great value," said Brisson. "We got the kinks out, and by running it over and over, we could see the flaws in the plot. We changed the entire story line."

"Also, the publicity value was tremendous. We received a vast number of letters from people who said they enjoyed the show and would look forward to the movie. 'I don't see why the major studios couldn't do the same thing. They have hundreds of stories that have never been filmed. If they would allow these stories to be shown on TV, they could find out which ones would be suitable for movies.' ...

"I'm through with the Service!" This mutinous statement was uttered this week by Don Taylor. At present he is portraying a Navy man in "60 Saddles for Gobi." He just finished "Pleasure Island," in which he was a Marine. He was in the sub service for "Submarine Command," the Army infantry for "Japanese War Bride" and "Battleground," Marine Air for "Flying Leathernecks" and the Air Force (his own service) for "Target Unknown" and "Winged Victory." "You've got enough points for a discharge, boy," I remarked. "Thanks for the crack," he replied. "Pardon me while I phone it to my press agent!" ...

Headache of the week is golden-voiced Mario Lanza. His on-again, off-again feud with MGM is causing large losses for the studio and countless yawns from observers. It's not the first time Lanza has kicked up a fuss.

When he was supposed to report to his last picture, he showed up a few dozen pounds overweight. After he and the studio came to terms, the excess poundage was shaved off. But now he is down to a trim 160 pounds. Wonder how he'll get out of this one ...

Ah, this modern age. A "prominent California industrial executive" advertised in the Hollywood reporter for a writer to "develop three or four major addresses a year to be delivered to national audiences."

NEW LEXINGTON SCHOOL MEETS

Parents And Teachers Assemble To Form Active P.T. A.

Realizing that home-school cooperation means a harmonious, understanding, and mutually helpful relationship between those who make up the biggest share of a child's world—his parents and teachers, Miss Rosa Belle McDonald, principal of the newly constructed Lexington Avenue school invited all parents and teachers, and state and council leaders of Louisiana P. T. A. to meet and provide factual information regarding the policies, purposes, and program of the P.T. A. at a planning meeting.

As a result of this information an organization meeting was held at the school Aug. 27, and parents and teachers present voted to organize a unit of the P.T. A. Mrs. M. L. DeFreese, state Director of Extension, presided over this meeting at which time by-laws were read and approved; nominating committee reported and the mechanics of organization were explained. Mrs. DeFreese said in part, "Effective cooperation between our American homes and communities and our American schools is the most important factor in preparing this nation for its future in this atomic age. If we wish to have our government offices and our public offices filled with men of high moral and ethical standards, we must produce citizens of high moral and ethical standards. Home and school cooperation is more than a division of a task. True cooperation and understanding results when there is mutual awareness on the part of the school and the home of what each is able to provide for the child. In peace and in war our homes are our first line of defense, our sons and daughters are our first defenders, from enemies within and without, so guard well these ramparts we watch."

The following officers were elected and installed to serve for the coming year: President, Mrs. H. B. Brady; First Vice-president, Mrs. Dave Aaron, Second Vice-president, Mrs. Meyer Glazer, Third Vice-president, Mrs. W. C. Leigh, Secretary, Mrs. J. H. Scoggin, Treasurer, Mrs. Ray Updegraff, Parliamentarian, Mrs. D. W. Griffith, Historian, Mrs. W. C. Ekholm.

The first regular meeting of the Lexington Ave. P.T. A. will be held the fourth Thursday in September, and will be in the nature of open house at which time all patrons of the school will be invited to view the school plant, and meet the teachers. 7:30 p.m. was agreed upon as the time most convenient for fathers to attend. Mrs. Prady, president announced a meeting of the Executive Committee one week prior to this date at which time committee chairmen will be named, and the P.T. A. plan of work will be distributed. 93 members were enrolled at this organization meeting, and enrollment is expected to reach a total of 500 members at the end of the membership drive.

In virtually all alphabets, the letter "M" stands in close conjunction to the letter "N".

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Answer to Question No. 1
1. Yes. Many men struggle for money, power, success and when they are "successful" and no longer have to struggle, find they have lost their zest for life. As Jesus said, they have gained the whole world and lost their own souls. Often the competitors they have defeated have become their enemies; their children have married and gone; and without the daily struggle and joy of winning, life seems empty and useless.

Answer to Question No. 2
2. Yes, pretty well. A missionary is probably the only man in the world who is impelled to have a healthy, highly intelligent wife. He has to be a man of strong character and high intelligence, but he must have a wife of much the same caliber. No church has money enough to send a missionary to some foreign country and have him rear a brood of weaklings for it to support. The late Ellsworth Huntington, who showed that sons of missionaries succeed oftener than sons of other men, thought good heredity and good environment combined told the story. So do I.

Answer to Question No. 3
3. Numerous authorities say overwork in itself never killed anybody. Doubtless there are some cases where one has to do more heavy lifting than he should, which causes heart breakdown. But nervous breakdown is nearly all due not to the work, but to anxiety, fear and worry about life's problems outside work.

PIPELINE AIR PATROL UNIQUE

One Of The Rarer And New Jobs In Oil Business

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 30 (AP)—One of the rarer and newer jobs in the oil business is that of the pipeline patrol pilot, the chap who keeps his eye out for trouble in the petroleum transportation network. These fliers skim hundreds of miles at an altitude of 300 feet on each trip, scanning a line they know is there but actually see only at intervals.

Flying between 70 and 100 hours monthly at an average speed of 95 miles an hour, one pilot does the job it requires probably 20 men to do afoot only a few years ago.

Service Pipe Line Co., for in-city repairs with whatever they stance, has four regular fliers and a relief pilot watching its 5,000 miles of main right-of-way bearing 12,000 miles of pipe.

Service, the transporting subsidiary of Standard Oil Co. (Indiana), moves oil through a network from Wyoming, the Gulf Coast and New Mexico to the Great Lakes.

Its pilots patrol a marked course, glimpsing the pipe itself only when it outcrops from under ground — roughly, every 40 miles — at junction points, pump stations or stream crossings.

They look for costly oil leaks showing on the ground, for livestock dead or ill on the right-of-way and for erosion which could damage the pipe line or other property, public or private.

When trouble shows, a sandbag-weighted message is dropped at the nearest pump station to send maintenance crews into action.

To speed such work, Service is installing a short wave radio system in its cars and trucks. When it is complete, the planes will be able to "talk" repairmen to the trouble scene and eliminate many man and truck-miles of searching.

Service's air patrol is only six years old. It replaced the foot inspectors who trudged all kinds of terrain, doing make-shift emergency repairs.

These men, now absorbed into other company operations, had it rough. They climbed fences, through gumbo mud, menaced by insects, reptiles and animals.

The air patrolers have it easier, but they have their hazards, too.

To C. B. (Pete) Nichols, Service's flier on the Tulsa-Gulf Coast run, his greatest is buzzards. They abound below the Oklahoma-Texas dividing Red River, he says, and collision with one of the slow-flying scavengers is a constant danger.

Nichols is based in Tulsa, as is H. W. Taber, who patrols between here and Whiting, Ind. R. H. Murphy, flying out of Wichita, Kans., covers the run from New Mexico to Kearney, Neb. J. M. Wolfe, from Casper, Wyo., handles a stretch from Wyoming to Kearney.

An aviation mechanic and relief pilot is M. E. Clark. All but Taber and Murphy were World War II military fliers, and their individual flying time logged ranges from Clark's 3,500 hours to Taber's 12,000.

Since it was formed, Service's patrol has flown 25,000 hours and 2,360,000 miles without an injury.

Now... GIVE NEW-BORN PIGS ANTIBIOTIC This New, Easy Way without any change in your management with Bacigro the amazing, new growth pellet!

ONE TINY PELLET DOES THE JOB!

That's right, just one pellet the size you see above does the job for 56 days—from birth right through to weaning. Each pellet contains 1000 units of bacitracin, outstanding antibiotic developed by Commercial Solvents Corporation and widely used in many livestock feeds for greater weight gains.

YOU CAN'T BEAT A SOW & Bacigro

No change in management; no change in feeding methods. Just "bacinate" once with Bacigro. Bacigro pellets provide the growth-stimulating antibiotic, bacitracin, while the baby pigs are thriving on sow's milk and under her care in the tried and true natural way. You can't beat a sow and Bacigro!

THE PELLET GOES HERE

Bacigro is implanted just under the skin behind the ear of 2- to 5-day old pigs. One "shot" does it. This new, practical, low-cost method of providing antibiotic growth stimulation is called "Bacination". Bacigro provides bacitracin by slow, direct absorption for outstanding extra-pound gains.

GREATER WEIGHT AT WEANING

See the difference this fall. Prove it to yourself. Get your pigs off to a fast start. Get the full benefits of antibiotic during the critical time of highest mortality and disease. Get greater weight at weaning—and make more uniform hogs in a shorter period of time —with Bacigro!

11.3% WEIGHT GAINS!

When you put Bacigro to work on your litters, expect extra weight increases of over 11%! This sort of gain has been consistently proved by work done with pigs, raised on pasture, by the University of Arkansas*, by CSC's own experimental farm at Terre Haute, Indiana, and by practical farmers.

*Station Bulletin, Report Series 34, April, 1952, University of Arkansas, Fayetteville.

BUY Bacigro NOW!

Don't lose out this fall. Don't just grow pigs—Bacigro 'em! You make full use of the sow and at the same time get essential antibiotic into your pigs. Simple as abc, implanting the pellet is quick, easy, and sure with the specially-designed Bacinator. Inexpensive—only one pellet per pig at a cost of less than 15¢. Bacigro and the Bacinator are now available at leading feed and drug stores. Get yours now.

WORLD CRUISE ENDS

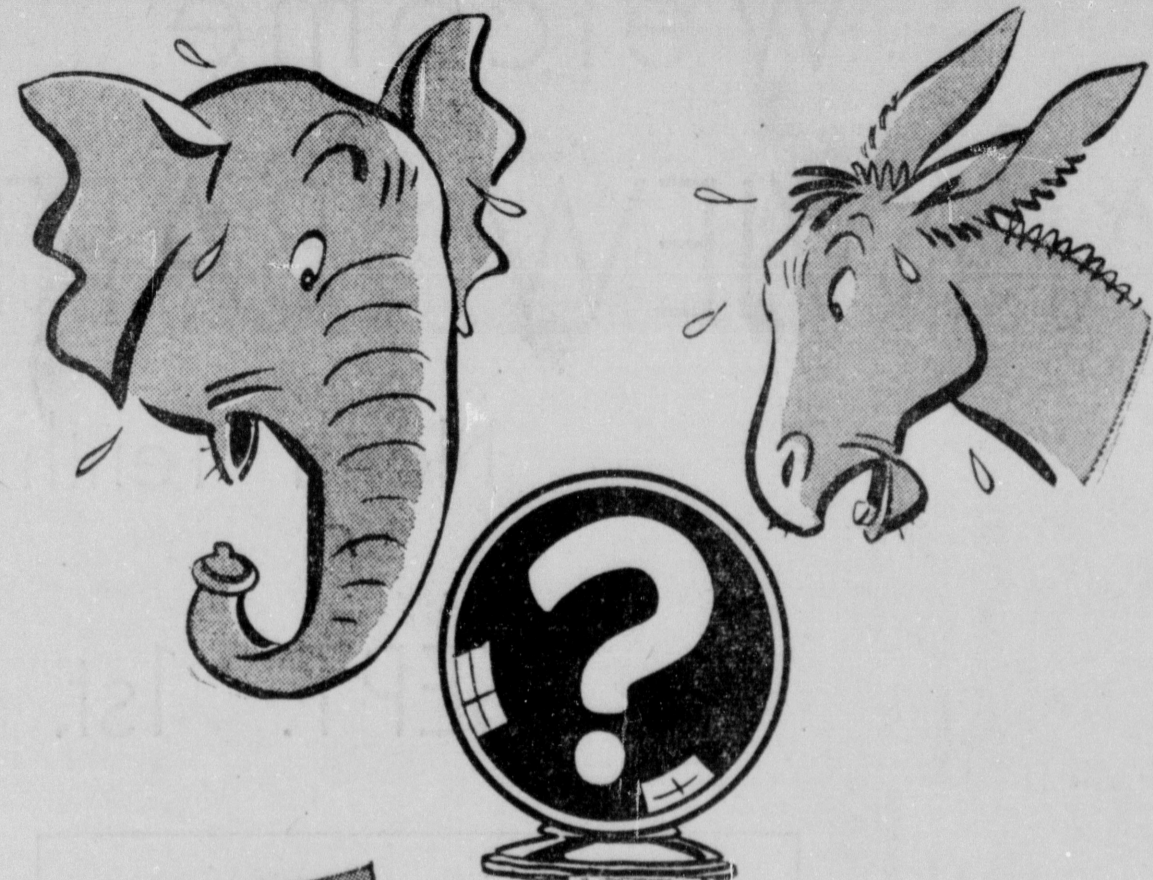

BALTIMORE (AP) — You'd think Bill Murnan, a youthful 56, would be ready for a rest after a five-year-trip around the world in a 30-foot-yawl.

But Bill, who stopped here en route to New York, plans to sell the yawl and buy a station wagon to tour the United States. "I've been at sea since 1919," he says. "There are an awful lot of things I have to do on land."

He started from Los Angeles and visited the West Indies, Ascension Island, South Africa, Australia, New Guinea and Hawaii. Illness forced his wife to abandon the trip in Samoa. She's been knocking around in Europe awaiting his return.

In Britain the generator of an automobile is known as the dynamo.

THE PHANTOM
By LEE FALK and WILSON MCCOY

WHEW~ I THOUGHT I'D NEVER MAKE IT--

"JULIE, JUNGLE-BRED AND FEARLESS, ATTACKED THE HUGE CROCODILE AND KILLED IT--"

"HER TWIN BROTHER, THE PHANTOM, WOUNDED BY PIRATES, WAS UNCONSCIOUS. SHE PULLED HIM OUT OF THE RIVER--"

I KEEP FORGETTING, WHEN YOU SAY "PHANTOM" THAT YOU MEAN YOUR GREAT-GRANDFATHER

THAT'S RIGHT, DIANA. THE PHANTOM OF HIS TIME. JULIE WAS HIS TWIN SISTER--AND MY GREAT-GRAND AUNT. HMMM, WHERE WAS I...?

OUR PHANTOM IS READING FROM THE HISTORY OF HIS FAMILY-- THE PHANTOM CHRONICLES.

THAT POOR YOUNG MISSIONARY HELD PRISONER BY THOSE PIRATES. HE'S SO HELPLESS--AND HANDSOME--WHY COULDN'T I RESCUE HIM?

SO JULIE DECIDED TO GO BACK AND SAVE THE MISSIONARY, HERSELF.

BECAUSE HE WAS HELPLESS--OR BECAUSE HE WAS YOUNG AND HANDSOME? DON'T TELL ME--READ ON!

THEN SHE CARRIED HIM BACK TO THE DEEP WOODS. IF IT'S HARD TO BELIEVE, REMEMBER, SHE WAS RAISED WITH HIM, AND WAS ALMOST AS STRONG AS HE WAS.

AS THE WEIRD COMET-MEN CLOSE IN TO RESCUE THEIR MASTER, PYRON, A BLAST FROM THEIR FLAME GUNS WOUNDS ZARKOV. TAKING COVER, FLASH DRAWS A BEAD WITH PYRON'S SCEPTRE WEAPON -- ALTHOUGH HE KNOWS THAT IF HE FIRES IT, THE BLAST MAY DESTROY THE CONTROL SHIP AND ALL ITS OCCUPANTS.

PYRON AND FLAMMA SHOUT A WARNING, BUT FLASH KNOWS THAT THE SITUATION IS SO DESPERATE HE HAS NO CHOICE BUT TO FIRE. GRIMLY HE SQUEEZES THE TRIGGER AND A STREAM OF SHORT-WAVE COSMIC RAYS RIPS INTO THE GROUP OF ATTACKING COMET-MEN!

THEIR LEADER DEAD, THE COWED SURVIVORS DRAG THE WOUNDED TO SHELTER, BREAKING OFF THE FIGHT. "COME ON," FLASH SHOUTS, "OUR NEXT JOB IS TO STEER THE COMET OUT OF ITS PRESENT PATH. THERE MAY STILL BE TIME TO PREVENT IT FROM COLLIDING WITH THE EARTH!"

WHILE ZARKOV HOLDS THE TIGHT-LIPPED PYRON PRISONER, FLAMMA EXPLAINS TO FLASH THE BASIC OPERATION OF THE COMET CONTROLS. WORKING AGAINST TIME AS THE FIERY COMET RUSHES TOWARD EARTH, FLASH EXPERIMENTS GINGERLY WITH THE CONTROLS THAT HARNESS THE MIGHTY COSMIC FORCES.
